Introduction

In this book and in a short while I will be revealing a loophole that has allowed few to make up to $200, $300 and even thousands daily because this was found inside the Large Streaming Companies servers and it's simply STUNNING as a second income stream while enabling them to reclaim their destiny – to buy anything, go anywhere and be anyone they want to be. Before that, let me ask you..

Are You APPALLED By the Rat Race?

Trapped in a hamster wheel that keeps spinning without any means of escape? Yet you can't just quit your soul-crushing boredom-inducing job, because you need it to pay that pesky growing mountain of bills.

Plus, don't you detest the politics, the ass-kissing, the long crowded commutes and ever changing company policies that seem to SCREW you more than help? Worst, if you think that's bad...

The Wall Street Journal raised the alarm bells, reporting in a recent article... "Almost half of U.S. chief financial officers believe a recession will strike the U.S. economy by the end of this year."

Back in March, renowned financial expert John Mauldin proclaimed the next recession may be worse than the Great Depression. In turn, triggering a series of lay-offs.

I don't mean to scare you, this means even the career you hate may not even be there anymore.

So what can you do to NOT be a victim holding the damn bag?

Or even the odds when corporations are out to squeeze you dry?

Or make as much money as possible in the shrinking window of opportunity? ...Before the next economic apocalypse hits like a nuclear bomb, leaving your finances in utter ruin!

If you want to discover a hidden inner circle of players who are cashing recession-proof checks... Enjoying a sense of calm when everyone else is WRECKED with worry... Then this may be the most important script you'll ever read...

Because this an amazing loophole you're about to discover is creating full-time stay home moms and dads – without any tech expertise and in any economy. It's the very same secret used by Large Streaming Companies to capture enormous profits – growing from $130 million to $403 million in just 1 year. That's a crazy 210% growth in less than 12 months.

Imagine what your net worth can look like with a massive 210% increase! And here's the good news:

For the first time...

This Lucrative Wealth-Growing Algorithm is ACCESSIBLE to YOU...

It's the very same thing that's helping an inner circle of people to generate mountains of cash.

Now in just a few minutes, you're about to get access to the very same powerful key to escape from the daily grind.

Just imagine no more Monday blues! No more sadness when the weekend is over. No more drowning your sorrows in the pubs or front of the screen because you feel powerless. But promise me you will read right to the end because that's where you will be guided on how to use this secret.

The Secret To Building Wealth

It's interesting how the word wealth has different connotations for different people. Whereas for some it's considered to be something virtuous, for others it recalls images of greed, deceit, and exploitation. For some wealth is something to be avoided while for others it's something they will spend their life pursuing. The truth, however, is that wealth is nothing but our 'natural state. The word wealth really means abundance and this abundance is the principle with which the universe functions. The secret to building wealth is merely about finding a way of tapping into the abundance that is already available.

Somewhere along the line in our cultural condition, an idea crept in that we are not entitled to abundance and that having 'too much is a bad thing - especially when it comes to money and material wealth. There seems to be a common notion that it is much nobler to suffer in lack than to enjoy a life of abundance. Life is abundant in every way. The whole universe for that matter is by design abundant. There is more than enough of everything for everyone, but the belief that there is lack is what creates the experience of lack for so many people. If there ever was a secret to building wealth, then it is the ability to realize that what you want is already available to you.

Most people are looking for the secret to building wealth in resources outside themselves, whereas the real resources are within you. Wealth is not something you 'get' but something that you 'connect to' - as airy-fairy as that might sound. Think about this: a radio, when switched on, does not pull radio waves from a transmitter. It simply makes audible the radio waves that are already there - these waves are everywhere all the time anyway. Right now, everything you need is available to you - all the money and resources in the world are available to you right now. It is merely a case of switching on and tuning in to start building wealth and prosperity in your life.

When you switch it on, you become aware of the fact that it's all available to you. When you tune in, you start tapping into the prosperity and opportunity that is around you all the time anyway. Once you realize that the real resources are within you, the external resources tend to just show up - not because they appear out of thin air, but for the first time, you are actually noticing them.

Just think of some of the greatest products of our modern age - aren't they just opportunities that were there for the taking...only taken by someone who was able to 'see' something that's always been there. When you think back at the Romans, it's not that they did not have electricity. It's just that they did not discover it. Electricity has always been there.

Another secret to building wealth that is closely related is the simple fact that money is nothing but a measure of the exchange of value. The amount of money and wealth in your life is a direct reflection of the value that you add to life (as a whole). To build more wealth in your life, you simply have to find a way to add more value. This is not hard at all. Why? Well, you are unique in so many different ways and you can do certain things that no one else can do. Find a way to use your unique talents to serve your fellow man and wealth and abundance will be yours.

The secret to building wealth is to build yourself. For things to get better, you have to get better. Wealth is not so much something you create as it is something that you connect to. You have it within you to create all the wealth and prosperity that you can imagine. Connect to this wealth that is already available to you.

How To Build Wealth?

Almost everyone probably wants to become wealthy at some point in their lives. Some people choose to live frugally to save more; others take risks by investing in high-return investments to build wealth.

In this book, I'm going to explore the best ways you can quickly build wealth. Keep reading to learn more.

What Is Wealth?

Everyone has a different idea of what wealth is. For some, it means owning property; for others, it means having lucrative investments. From a financial standpoint, the term wealth is the number of assets you own minus debts.

How To Determine Your Wealth

Add the total market value of all your tangible and intangible assets, then subtract debts.

Building wealth may seem somewhat impossible, but it is actually quite simple. In fact, you don't have to earn six figures to turn this dream into a reality. No matter how old you are, you can amass wealth as long as you're determined.

Keep in mind that building wealth is not an overnight process.

Laws To Grow Wealth

Take a look at these three laws below for ways to build your wealth.

1. Increase Your Income

Whether you're just starting or in transition, having multiple income streams is the most fundamental step to building wealth. Here are some of the ways you can increase your income and build wealth fast.

Venture into Business

The wealthiest people in the world are not employees but business founders. Entrepreneurship fulfills two aspects of wealth building: income and high returns on accumulated wealth. Therefore, if you have a business idea that can increase your income, get started.

It doesn't have to be a huge business. You can start a small business and offer the services you're good at. For instance, with the emergence of the internet, you can create an entirely online-based business. If you're busy with other things, you can hire people to run the business for you.

Take Up High-Paying Jobs

You can check out the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics for a detailed occupation database. From there, you can see the high-paying jobs and their subcategories that you can apply to. More than 100 professions pay an average of not less than $80,000 per year. Good examples of professionals paid highly include physicians, managers, nurses, and engineers.

However, some of these professions are very expensive. It may also take a lot of time to complete the requisite coursework, and it can be even longer before you start earning a high salary. You should consider all these factors before picking a profession. Whichever career path you choose, make sure it doesn't leave your debt levels too high.

Run Side Hustles

Even if you have a job, you don't have to only rely on your paycheck. You can run a successful side hustle to increase your income. You can turn your talent or hobby into monetary value during your free time.

There are many lucrative side hustles you can run online as long as you have internet access. These include:

-  Working as a virtual assistant
-  Freelance writing and editing
-  Copywriting
-  Online tutor, coach, consultant
-  Web design, app development, coding, etc.

Other side hustles that don't need internet access include:

- 🎬 Part-time professor at a local college
- 🎬 Part-time gym instructor
- 🎬 Freelance bookkeeping, tax preparation, tutoring
- 🎬 Becoming a shopper
- 🎬 Part-time driver for a ride-sharing or delivery service

🎬 Improve Your Skill Set

There are two ways you can grow your income and investments in returns. You can either lower your expenses or increase your income. Most people focus on the first, forgetting the latter. You can increase your income by honing your skillset. This could include getting a degree, an MBA, or a special designation, which can all earn you a promotion and salary increase.

2. Save More

Saving money is another crucial step in building wealth. Once you have enough income to cater to your basic needs, it's time to save. Remember, saving small amounts regularly compounds to substantial wealth over time.

🎬 Create a Budget

A budget is your financial plan, with expenditure estimates versus your income. A budget is an important tool in wealth creation. It gives you a view of your expenditure — the things you can cut on to increase your savings.

To maintain a feasible budget, it is advisable to create a new one every month. Can you imagine a sailor without a compass? That's what a person who spends their money without a budget is like. Such a person will likely eventually suffer a devastating financial crash.

One of the most popular and effective budgeting techniques is the 50/30/20 rule. This method suggests that 50% of your income goes to essentials, like food, rent, and healthcare. 30% allocation goes to non-essentials, such as shopping and luxury activities. The remaining 20% is the most important allocation, which should go to savings.

Build an Emergency Fund

Emergency fund kits prepare you for unexpected events, like losing a job. Such occurrences can disorient your wealth-building without emergency funds. Two common outcomes are selling the investment or incurring debts.

If you incur debts, your wealth starts diminishing. Also, you'll have to pay interest for the debt. If you sell your investment, you lose the capital and interests you would otherwise earn. So, to avoid such scenarios, build an emergency fund as your backup money to settle surprise expenditure.

Pay Off Debt

Debt –whether it's credit card debt, mortgage debt, student loan debt or any other kind — can pull you down every time you try to build your fortune. You can start by paying off high-interest debt, so you can save money and start building wealth.

Live Below Your Means

Overspending can dramatically impact your ability to build wealth. Cut spending on unnecessary things like eating out, buying designer clothes, and regular vacations. While being frugal can be boring and unsatisfying, you'll amass wealth over time and find it rewarding.

3. Invest

Once you've set aside a monthly saving goal, it's time to invest. When you invest your money, it gives you more money in return.

Investing your income in the stock market, and in real estate and retirement accounts like a 401(k) or a Roth IRA, can build you massive wealth over time.

Stock Market

Buying company shares is one of the best and straightforward ways to build wealth. Through shares, you become a shareholder, owning a piece of the company. Buying stocks through exchange-traded funds is a transparent and risk-free form of investment.

ETFs are passive funds that are less risky. They help investors evade high fees and taxes. They also allow you to diversify your equities. That means you can focus your investment on specific ETFs, like emerging markets, developed markets, or American markets.

Even though stocks are much riskier compared to other assets, they have the best return on investment. With a well-informed diversification strategy, you can lower the risks and maximize the returns.

Real Estate

Investing in real estate investment trusts gives you a chance to profit from the real estate industry without direct involvement. REITs are essentially real estate company stocks involved in buying and selling properties. Mortgage companies also fall into this category.

Every time the company's value increases, you gain as well. REITs boast of very high dividends, which you can reinvest for more returns.

Building wealth is not a rocket science process. With dedication and discipline, you can grow your wealth fast. Before starting on this journey, it's important to equip yourself with financial education.

That alone should catapult you through the other steps seamlessly and eventually build wealth.

How To Attract Wealth and How To Keep Wealth

Doesn't it seem like some people easily attract wealth while others are stuck spinning their wheels going in circles?

We all want more money, but the fact is some people are better at acquiring it than others.

The Law of Attraction is the belief that we can attract whatever we are focusing on, from wealth to love and happiness. This idea changed my life, but it doesn't work for everyone. That's because many people forget the other half of the equation: Attracting what you want isn't enough; you also need to take action. Below are actionable steps to get started if you want to attract more wealth.

1. Face your fears.

To become successful, you must overcome your fears. Some people fear failure; others fear success. Many are afraid of making the wrong decision and don't make one at all. It's tempting to think that you can always start tomorrow — but real failure is never having tried.

Rather than fear the inevitable challenges, what if you were just to accept that they are part of life? Problems are merely situations that precede solutions and opportunities.

2. Execute big ideas.

Taking action means putting in the work and getting started on your ideas. When you have a big idea, write it down while you're inspired. Then list immediate steps you can take to make it real. It might be doing research to see if it's feasible, or telling a friend so you have some accountability.

3. Mimic others.

To be the best at what you do, simply adapt what your competitors do — then do it better or differently. Study their websites and marketing materials. Strive to be the kind of company where their best people want to work. I've learned many strategies by hiring employees from competitors.

Mentors are also important, but they don't need to be expensive leadership coaches. A mentor can be an author whose quotes inspire you or an influencer with motivational YouTube videos.

4. Learn to be uncomfortable.

Most people just want to be comfortable, be it physical, psychological, or emotional comfort. Comfort, more than anything else, is one of the primary goals of the middle-class mindset. The fact is, becoming a millionaire isn't easy and the need for comfort can be devastating.

If you want to attract wealth, you have to learn to be comfortable while operating in a state of ongoing uncertainty. The great ones know there's a price to pay for getting rich, but if they have the mental toughness to endure temporary pain, they can reap the harvest of abundant wealth for the rest of their lives. Start today by making a list of five things you must do that are uncomfortable but will help you build your financial fortune.

5. Become obsessed with success.

The average person believes obsession is a bad word. The truth is wealthy people have a healthy obsession with getting what they want, which includes money. The wealthy see business and life as a game, and it's a game they love to win.

This is the reason millionaires still go to work every day chasing their next success. Money to these people is no more than a gauge that tells them when they have achieved their latest target. For the ultra-wealthy, it's no longer about money, but about success and accomplishment.

There's nothing wrong with being obsessed with wealth, but winners love to win and the elation they experience after victory never gets old. If you want to attract more money into your life, think about what you want and what you're willing to sacrifice to get it. Your discipline and dedication must match your desire.

6. See money as your friend.

Most people have a dysfunctional, adversarial relationship with money. After all, we are taught that money is scarce — hard to earn and harder to keep.

If you want to start attracting money, stop seeing it as your enemy and think of it as one of your greatest allies. It's a friend that has the power to end sleepless nights of worry and physical pain, and can even save your life. The rich see money as a special friend that can help them in ways no other friend can, and these positive feelings lead them to build a stronger relationship every day.

Start telling yourself daily that money is your friend and a positive force in your life, and your mind will go to work to help you acquire more.

7. Stop trying to solve the great money mystery.

Most people believe making money is mysterious. The truth is money flows from ideas. The more value you bring to the marketplace, the wealthier you become. Getting rich in a free market economy is simply a matter of trading solutions for the money. The bigger the solution, the bigger the paycheck. It's that simple.

Rich people aren't smarter, luckier, or more educated. There is no great mystery to it. Start approaching money like a child who doesn't understand the limitation and honestly believes he can do anything. Making money may not be easy, but it really is that simple.

8. Exercise.

Your physical health influences all areas of your life. You probably know you should exercise — but do you give yourself permission to do it on your own terms? For example, if you aren't a morning person, don't work out in the morning. If you hate the gym, play a team sport or walk home from work.

It's easy to cut out an exercise to save time during the day but don't. Going for a 15-minute walk is much better than not doing anything at all.

Use exercise as a way to meet other goals, like spending time alone, which is critical for success. The most significant breakthroughs come from solitude, so take time for yourself every day.

9. Give with emotion.

If you want to get, you have to give. This doesn't just apply to money; there's another layer. I call it vibrational giving.
