The American Dream Project...

The American Dream Project consists of supplying our readers with VALUABLE information that could completely change their lives.

America offers so much for so many people from around the world. It has always been a beacon of hope; of freedom. The world still wants to come here because EVERYTHING is better here than anyplace else. Why? Because even though there is a large segment of our society who wants to tear down America, America is still the best place on the planet to live and raise a family.

America is still the land of opportunity. Where else in the world is there such a vast mixture of cultures living together in peace. Nowhere! That's why the majority of the worlds population still wants to live here so they too can obtain The American Dream.

Just talk to any foreigner who has come to this country legally. They will tell you how much better it is here, than where it was they came from.

Just look around you. Minorities who come here from around the world take advantage of the opportunities America offers. Many small business owners are minorities living the "Dream" that they couldn't live back in their home countries. Sadly many Americans have lost that dream.

Do you realize that if you earn $30,000 a year in America, that you are in the top 7% of the worlds income producers? That means that the other 93% of the people on the planet make less than you. That's why people from other countries think all Americans are rich.

Do you now maybe understand, when a foreigner comes to this country, why many of them become so successful? They have opportunities here that they simply did not have back in their home country.

America is going through a tough time in our history right now, but what I see is an America that is waking up. Americans have taken their freedoms for granted for far too long.

Now, with the talk of socialism sweeping through our government, the government getting so much bigger, and with the Government debt that too large for America to sustain, average Americans who have been a sleep for so many years, seem to be waking up to what we all have to lose – The American Dream

Our Founding Fathers gave us a gift, unfortunately schools in America no longer teach about our Founding Fathers and that gift. Parents are no longer teaching it to their children. I have been studying our Founding Fathers for about 20 years and I will say this: How can a country know where it is headed, if doesn't know from where it came? It can't!

The goal of The American Dream Project is to enhance the lives of our readers, in essence, enhance Your American Dream.

- We will assist you in discovering how to take advantage of the "New Economy", the Internet, and show you how to make a comfortable living from working at home. This FREE 23-Set WordPress 101 Video Series is the beginning stages of Working Online from the comforts of home.
- We will share with you Real Estate Investor secrets that will show you how to save thousands, if not tens of thousands of dollars the next time you buy or sell your next personal residence. These secrets have been hidden from average Americans for decades. Just one secret alone shows you how to sell your house in 9 days without using a realtor.

- And, without good health, you're really not living The American Dream. In fact, you have problems if you're not as healthy as you can be, therefore, we will re-educate you on how to change your lifestyle with 8 Healthy Steps. Discover "The Secrets of Healthy Living and Natural Weight Loss" by following a simple common sense, no nonsense approach to healthier living.

The American Dream Project touches on these three most important elements of American living. It is our hope that we will be able to assist you in your quest to improve one, or perhaps all three of these areas of your life.

Differences Between a Blog or Website

My main WordPress site is used as a static Website and most visitors wouldn't even know that it was Created by WordPress.

For the most part, blogs are instantly recognizable as they all have a common look. They consist of a web page with new content listed at the top. The content is in order by the date of the last entry, from most recent to oldest. Blogs were originally intended as online journals, which is why they are organized by date.

A traditional (Static) website is ordered by subject and not by date. In fact when you look at a web page on a standard website you have no idea of when any content was uploaded to the site.

However a blog page uses the same underlying technology as a standard web page (HTML), so in reality a blog is a website. Because of the flexibility of the blogging platform, many users are now just using WordPress as traditional websites, simply by arranging the site content by subject and not by date.

So, reality is, WordPress can be used as a blog or as a website. It is meant to be installed on a local server which gives you complete control over your site allowing you to access and modify your site whenever you want.

WordPress is a very powerful personal publishing platform that comes with great design features to make your online publishing experience as easy, pleasant and fun as possible.

We are proud to offer you the FREE WordPress 101 Video Series, so you will no longer have to pay a high priced web designer to do for you what you can do for yourself, better!

But the best part is; now you will have this knowledge yourself so you can create sites any time you need them, and if it is your desire to make money at home online, and become an Internet marketer, as you grow your internet marketing business, you will need this skill.
