

Preface

It was late at night, probably 3 AM. I was 7.
My father raped me. I enjoyed it...

Long story short

I was always a shy kid. I think i was too introverted for my own good. Kids used to take advantage of me. They used to emasculate me. At first i felt harassed. Then i started enjoying it. That is how i became a feminine person inside a male body. I felt like i was born in a wrong body. I hate pain, so i decided to not have a gender reassignment surgery. My mother encouraged me to wear her panties. She was a nasty perverted bitch. She coerced my dad into filming him fucking me. I think this is classified under pedophilia, but alas — both of them are dead.

I won't go into details, but it was bloody. My asshole was torn apart. White puss effused out of my asshole, and it was just not semen!

In a way i am grateful to my dad; he introduced me to the hidden world of gay sexual pleasure. I spent the next 50 years of my life indulging in various forms of degeneracy. This is how i acquired HIV then AIDS. I am old and dying as i type this. Canadians pretend to be progressive and liberal — they aren't.

So i hid my homosexuality from the rest of the world until now. I am a proud fag, dying, in pain, but i am proud of myself. As soon as my workplace found that i was gay, they fired me. I looked for work elsewhere; there is no work for the gays — Canada is homophobic and ageist!

I tried to get married to a beautiful lady and pretend to have a normal life; They are all bitches. Canadian women are the most selfish cunts in the entire planet. Do not marry a Canadian woman! She will ass rape you financially and mentally.

I hope for a future when USA invades and annexes Canada and makes it a liberal paradise such as in San Francisco! I love San Fran! I went there and i had hundreds of men willing to cream-pie my asshole; i am 60.

When i grew up in Ottawa, the scary winter ride was constant — life in Canada is always bleak; Canada is perpetual hell winter!

I went to meet Stephen King down there in Maine once, and he proceeded to have sex with me. Yes, he is gay. Oops! Isn't that obvious? Just look at him!

I would also like to reveal to the readers that most of the celebrities are literal homos. I found myself once in a gay orgy where Tom Cruise and John Travolta were tongue-kissing each other. I will never forgive them for not getting me to join them into a ménage à trois with them. They both have the AIDS. Damn them to hell.

Suffice it is to say that the world we live in is a world full of bullshit and lies. All the lies the MSM media tells us, and all of us gobble it like faggots eating each other's shit-icecreams coming out of their asses.

Donald Trump and Hillary? They both have had sex many times. The future of the corrupt American politics is Clinton family vs Trump family, and they are both family friends!

I am thinking of committing suicide, but i enjoy typing. I enjoy browsing the internet. I enjoy the fact that the blood coming out of my asshole is due to my father fucking me up the ass. Had he not raped me, my life might have been a bit different. Oh wait, i am ugly as hell for the superficial women of this world so i had no chance.

Killing my parents

I killed my mom. I killed my dad. They deserved it. They were asking for it. No one will ever know. I will be dead by the time this book is ever published, or revealed to the general public. So i think i am safe. I killed them 40 years ago. I am happy that i did what i did. Life got better once they were out of my life. Just do it kids. Kill your parents! Be free from their evil fascist control over your lives.

I won't reveal much details as to how i did it; they "accidentally" drowned...

How to survive in Homophobic Ageist Canada

It's not that hard to survive in this god forsaken freezer. Just offer lonely men your orifices for them to un-pressurize their piss-utensils. Offer them sex for food, drinks, money, lodging, et seq.

It gets harder when you are older. No one gives a shit about your existence. So you have to do dumpster diving, living in the underground supermarkets, moving around. It was fun when i was younger. Now it is very hard. I am typing this while inside a bathroom. I won't reveal the location because it's illegal and i might get thrown out. I suck their dicks regularly for them to let me be here, and sometimes they give me something to eat. I also use toilet papers to collect the blood and pus around my asshole and enjoy it as raw delicacy.

When you consider Canada, you may think they have everything dealt with.

They have had same-sex marriage across the nation for about 10 years, hostile to segregation laws for a mind boggling 14 years and is regularly portrayed as one of the best places to be LGBTQIA on the planet.

Homophobia in schools is on the ascent, and there are the individuals who need the privileges of trans individuals to be stripped. We addressed Kennedy to discover more:

How is the size of homophobia in Canada?

In 2016, the measurements uncovered that detest wrongdoings spurred by sexual introduction expanded by 10%, which speaks to 18% of all the detest violations.

We likewise realize that the despise wrongdoings propelled by sexual introduction are the most fierce of any of the detest violations that happen in Canada.

How does this contrast with different nations?

Individuals surmise that being gay in Canada is all ruddy, and contrasted with a few locales, it is, however not for everyone – in case you're two-soul, dark or darker, you have enormous issues and issues, a similar way you have in the UK – there are a great deal of similitudes between the UK and Canada.

What is the level of this homophobia in your schools?

Regarding training through our educational system, our LGBTQI2S (lesbian, gay, androgynous, transgender, intersex, eccentric and two-spirits) youngsters confront elevated amounts of segregation in school.

We did an overview of secondary schools in Canada and 70% of taking an interest understudies detailed hearing homophobic remarks each day and 74% of trans individuals had been verbally pestered about their sexual orientation articulation.

One of every five (11%) of the LGBTQ understudies detailed being physically annoyed or struck as a result of their apparent sexual introduction or sex personality.

What should be possible to diminish homophobia in schools?

There should be more prominent mindfulness, regardless of whether it be through the school direction advisor or through the social laborers.

We have to accomplish more mindfulness for guardians, we have to do more prominent instruction in the matter of what our LGBTIQ2S kids are experiencing in school once a day, and research into the degree of homophobic tormenting.

We should be significantly more proactive in changing educational programs so our LGBTQ children can see themselves and their families reflected in their learning.

Why is this essential?

School would turn into significantly all the more inviting spot for our childhood, and you need to recall that much of the time, the young might be encountering homophobia at home, and once in a while school is the main place where they can go for a respite.

So on the off chance that they're not understanding that sheltered space made in school, and they're not getting it at home, where are they going to go?

We've talked a considerable measure about homophobia in schools, yet where else do you see elevated amounts of separation?

It's still extremely common for grown-ups in their expert lives; you know, questions asked are; is it safe to turn out at work? What is the reaction going to be? In the event that you take a gander at our seniors, they are confronting issues around homophobia in long haul mind offices in their grown-up years.

You discuss homophobia somewhere else, so how acknowledged are LGBTQIA individuals in the general group?

When we were in the stature of marriage, there were high rates of acknowledgment for same-sex marriage in Canada.

Presently, there is that demeanor 'Goodness well, we gave them marriage, now what do they need?' There's that absence of genuine comprehension by the overall public of what it really intends to be LGBTQIA in a general public where you're still on the periphery regardless you're underestimated.

Be that as it may, we have a ton of work to do, and you can't gauge LGBTQIA uniformity rights in light of marriage enactment.
