Chapter 21-Visit to Erinon 5.

Reeas said she didn't know that I was to be used in a ruse to get Kallo to divulge some part of his inner self. I said, 'Forget it, it worked, didn't it?' Sionn said, if I had known, Kallo would have found out and the plan would have collapsed. He also said sorry, he knew only too well how terrible things can be on the lower levels of the Astral Plane. Sionn now has the location of six of the containers, four of which came from Darian2 and his contacts who have now been arrested.

'Dan, you may now go with Reeas to her home for a short visit, enjoy.' 'I will as long as I don't have to go through hell again to get there. We arrived at the outskirts of Reeas's city just by being conscious of it. It is a highly developed world with technology Earth can only dream of.

'Why did you give all this up to go to Yalton, Reeas?'

I already know the answer as she already told me on the way to junction 50, but I am so overwhelmed by the beauty of the place. I suppose she just wanted to serve God, like a nun will do on our planet. I am starting to fall for Reeas, but I know my wife is also waiting for me at home although she will have to reincarnate at some point. I am now a Guardian and that will mean I can possibly be anywhere at any time.

We arrive at the home of Reeas. It is a large manor style house set in its own grounds, with a beautiful lake facing the front door, everything is perfect, the weather, the view, which is similar to the place where I went on holiday once in the Austrian Tyrol, the people are very friendly.

After we had met Reeas's parents and had some food, we went for a walk in the countryside, being as this is the Astral Plane, we know we can do almost anything, so we decided to fly! Yes, just by thinking about it.

We fly over the mountains. The people on this particular plane are used to seeing such things as it is a higher sub plane. We fly between the hills and valleys. I am feeling pretty good as we soar through the scenery, I also think of one of my favourite classical music pieces.

Reeas is beautiful beyond words, and I know that whatever body she is in she will still be beautiful. According to the records, she is medium height with long brown hair and brown eyes. She also has a perfect body. As you students know, we can alter our looks just by being conscious. But it is not just the looks that make Reeas beautiful to me, it is her aura, or her inner glow, she can bring out the best side of people, just like Deria can. I feel that I want to be near them all the time.

We spent a considerable time with Reeas's family, but we know time is something different here than on the physical plane. I know that if Sionn needs to contact us he will simply send a thought-transfer, so we enjoyed every minute. Reeas took me to visit the "Fairy-kingdom" that exists in the forest, we went at night and watch as they fly about with their butterfly wings glowing in the dark, we can also talk to them; they asked us if we wanted to become fairies for the night? We said yes. So, then, and there, we transformed our bodies into fairies! Yes, my friends, it is as simple as that, we fly about, and help in any way we can, even with the smallest of jobs such as helping any other life form incarnate to the next level, no matter what it might be, It could be a beetle or a vole,

I know all life is precious, and even the smallest creature, in time, will move on to a higher life form.

This is something Kallo has forgotten about in his quest to be supreme leader! I also know that whatever exists in our imagination can also exist here on the Astral World, such as: dragons, centaurs, sylphs, unicorns, gnomes, trolls, the list is endless. I asked the fairies if they want to learn our modern type of dance, they said, which? I said, Disco, can you imagine the scene, yes, it is fantastic, my student friends.

We arrive back at Reeas's house to be told that someone in the next town wants Reeas and I to escort them on to the next incarnation, word must have gone round that we can move about on the different levels, so we said yes. We arrive wearing our best clothes, me in a white suit, and Reeas in a lovely white gown; I must say, we really looked the part, as we can be any age we want, so we decided to be thirty.

The person moving on is a woman who has outlived her time on the present plane, she is happy to be going to the next higher level. It had a higher light and sound content. She said her goodbyes, and we walked through a big golden door which separates the levels. It can also be a ship or a plane, anything you want to transport you away. When we see that the lady is in good hands, we walk through the wall into the sub-plane base again.

Chapter 22-Tourgen War

Sionn is waiting in the restroom.

'We have found the location of eight of the containers, there are still four to be found. Dan, I want you to go on a special mission.

'Why do you want me? Surely you have better qualified people.'

'No, not for this mission, you come from Earth, and as such, you have the same type of lower planet consciousness.'

'Thanks a lot.'

'Don't get upset. What I mean is the planet where you will be going is similar to Earth, there is also a war going on, a war which has been raging for three hundred and fifty years. The two main races are the Dresden's and the Tourgen's.'

‘The Tourgen’s!’

‘Yes, the same as the one you inhabited.’

‘But I thought the containers are placed on higher world planets?’

‘Yes, they are, but Treggon, which is the higher world planet is also the sister planet of Antarra, the world where the war is raging, it is in the same solar system. If Antarra is destroyed by the spores then Treggon will also die. We want you to locate the container, and the agent, or agents!’

‘How am I supposed to survive on a planet like that?’

‘You will have one big advantage.’

I already know what he means.

‘You will have the cloned Tourgen bodies. Reecas and Deria want to go also.’

‘How can Deria survive in the middle of a war?’

‘She won’t even be noticed, she is also a Guardian.’

Wow, I think, the old team back at work.

Sionn said, ‘Grenwer has located one more container; the news has just come through. This means we have four days to complete this mission.’

‘What about the other containers,’ I said.

‘Don’t worry about that, we will concentrate our efforts on it. Your Tourgen bodies have also been upgraded, they are now even stronger and the bone structure in particular has also been strengthened. Well, what do you say?’

‘OK, what’s the plan?’

‘You will travel there by lightship where you will be able to move around without being noticed, as you know, the ship can change shape and also can be visible or invisible, it will also be your base. Find out what you can without bringing attention to yourselves.’

‘Can we use lights suits?’

No, you could be noticed. Any sort of higher technology could be discovered, and we don’t want to alert the agents just yet.’

‘What about the lightship?’

The lightship is too high in technological terms for them to discover.’

I don’t understand? Isn’t the light suit highly technological?’

‘Yes, but you will be moving around, and going inside the buildings. Once we have found the containers, and the agents, we will also end the war on the planet Antarra!’

I still didn’t fully understand about the light suits, but I accept it.

‘What about Karma, I said.’

‘We know that if we don’t do something the planet will be destroyed anyway. It was originally home to a highly advanced race called the Santine. They were all but wiped out over three-and-a-half centuries of warfare. We believe Kallo, and his agents brought the Tourgen’s and the Dresden’s to Antarra to bring the consciousness of the planet down. The Santine are now mostly evacuees on different planets throughout the solar system, but there is still a small group left in an area called the Sanctuary. It is located under the Northern ice-cap; they could have information which could help us locate the agents. Dan, I know this is a tricky one, but I believe you can do this.’

Well, I think, if Sionn has faith in me then that is something special.

I asked Reeas what her thoughts are on the mission; she said, we could go to see the Santine first just in case they have some info.

‘First, you will have to be cloned into your respective bodies. After preparation in the sub plane base, Sionn told us that Antarra is seventeen thousand five-hundred light years away, but we are to use the worm hole at sector 97; this will allow us to get to Antarra in less than two days. This means that we have only two days to find the container. We went to sleep as normal. In the dream state we can, as you know, do anything we want in the service of God, but all I want to do is dance, yes, I know it’s silly, but once you experience the light book, whatever you want to do, you can. Dancing on the inner planes sure does ease the stress.

We wake up in the physical world on Terick 3 in the Tourgen bodies. After flexing our muscles and generally familiarizing ourselves with our new selves, I said, ‘OK, let’s get started.’ I suppose you students are wondering why I have been chosen to lead this mission? You are not alone, my friends, as I am wondering the same thing. Reeas is more experienced than me, and Deria is a higher life form, but I have, as Sionn said, a lower world consciousness and that is what they want me for.

We are escorted into the loading bay area where we board the light-ship. I can feel the incredible power, and technology of the ship. I wonder why the Guardians can’t find the containers and agents simply by using the ships resources! I then came to realize that as Sionn had said before, the consciousness of the planet is low, and that alone is enough to stop the Guardians from accessing any data.

The job of finding our way to the Northern ice-cap is easy. The ship is something to behold, I can’t help thinking that something like this can be controlled by a person like me! It feels like a very lucid dream. Maybe it is! Maybe I will wake up and carry on with my very boring life on Earth! I would be able to go walking in the lake district as usual, and visit my gym where I could exercise the puny body I used to have.

I look around the ship, then at Reeas, who now is in one of the strongest bodies in the Universe, and Deria, an Elfin-Princess of higher consciousness, I then feel the power of my own body melting into the awesome power of the ship, then I think no, I would rather be here, even if I have to die in this physical body, I know I will be alright. We enter the worm hole at sector 97. There is no feeling of physical change, just a weird light-headed sensation, how the ship can travel faster than the speed of light, I don’t know, but it surely does, we decided to take advantage of the time span and sleep while we can. I asked Reeas if she would come with me to visit my home this time, she said yes.

Chapter 23-Past lives

We wake up in our normal bodies on the outskirts of my town. 'Reeas,' I said, 'before we meet my family, I would like to show you a special place. I wonder if we could fly without people noticing around here.' Reeas said, 'Of course we can, all we have to do is make ourselves invisible to the locals.'

The feeling I get as we take off over my town is something special, I can see my house and our dog poppy in the garden. Why aren't I going to meet them? Why am I going somewhere with a person I had become very fond of rather than meet my wife!

'Reeas said, 'Do you know we have been together before, in past lives?'

I am astounded!

'How do you know?'

'I looked into the past life records section!'

Now, I realize. The universal love I feel for her, the wanting to be near her. We held hands as we fly over the Northwest landscape, or I should say danced over the landscape, the amount of greenery is stunning, I see the Cumbrian mountains coming up fast, I know them well, we landed on Gowbarrow fell, above Ullswater.

I said, 'You know Wordsworth wrote his famous poem here.'

'Yes,' she said, 'but we lived here long before Wordsworth.'

'Please, tell me.'

'I can show you. First take a look at the landscape.'

I looked over to Helvellyn in the Southwest then to place fell to the South. The view is lovely, as usual.

'Close your eyes.' She said, 'Open them.'

The view is the same, only, certain things have changed, some of the stone walls are gone, and the houses are gone. The mountains themselves are hundreds of millions of years old, so they are the same, so are the lakes. Reeas said, 'We lived in a settlement not far from the Roman fort called Galava in the year one-hundred and forty AD. The modern name is Ambelside. The Romans wanted too much tax off us so you broke into the granary where you got caught and killed!'

'What happened to you?'

Reeas said, she didn't want to dwell on it, but she died in childbirth shortly afterwards. I feel terrible.

‘Don’t feel sad,’ she said, ‘we had many happy times as well, our first incarnation in the human form together was 250,000 years ago near Stonehenge, of course, the monument wasn’t there then, we came across a land bridge which joined France with England.’

‘Which was our last incarnation together?’ I asked.

‘It was in the year 1726. We were North American Indians of the Shoshoni tribe. We lived to the west of the Rocky Mountains in Utah. Life was very hard. There was a lack of big game; we had to live on rabbits, fish, roots and seeds. You were the man as usual, and wanted to use your physical skills, I was the woman, and wanted to learn new skills, but I couldn’t with the way of life we had. I then incarnated to a series of planets in the Galaxies of Zeta3 where I could finally learn about mathematics and other such things, and then finally to my home planet of Erinon5.’

‘I feel sad for letting her go, but I know it is all in the greater scheme of things. Now, we are back together.’

‘Reeas, I feel unsure of this mission, such a lot depends on us.’

‘I trust your judgement, she said, and I will help in any way I can. We can use the invisibility device so we can move about without being seen, although I know we will have to be careful. We can now go back to the ship as we are approaching Antarra.’

Chapter 24-Sanctuary Ice Base

We are once again on the lightship, and in our Tourgen bodies. I now feel even closer to Reeas. The image on the screen is of a planet similar to Earth, but of course, it had different continents. The planet itself is smaller than Earth, and I can already see the destruction that the war between the Tourgen’s and the Dresden’s has done. We are in camouflage mode, so we aren’t seen as we head for the Northern ice cap.

I know we can enter the base through the underwater entrance as we plunge into the icy water. There is an abundance of life in the water, too much to relate to you at this time. There are also giant squid like creatures many times larger than on Earth. I didn’t want to relay a message to the Santine as I’m not sure whether it will be intercepted, but I need not worry, as a message came through on the screen, it said ‘Your ship has been expected, this message is secure, welcome, please enter the gateway in two-minutes.’

The inner gateway is huge; it reminds me of the cathedral like building which is underground at Far-Station or Yalton. We came to rest in a sort of dry dock. I am surprised to see a greeting party of dozens of people who are dressed in long orange robes similar to the ones used by Buddhist monks on Earth. The Santine are totally bald and didn’t have any hair anywhere on their bodies. As we step out of the ship, I can see the expression of fear on their faces as they view us, after all, they had been abused by beings like us for a long time.

‘Forgive our fear.’ said one of the Santine, inching forward. ‘We are not accustomed to greeting Tourgen’s such as yourselves, I am Thalo and I will be your guide here.’

‘We are not really Tourgen.’ I said, ‘We have temporarily taken on this form to complete a mission.’

‘We will retire to the meeting hall where you can rest and replenish yourselves.’

‘I must say you have a highly evolved culture here!’

‘Yes, we were on the brink of total control of the senses, and we had a planetary security system which could repel any invaders, but it was destroyed by Kallo, He then brought the invaders here, and so started the Great Sadness. Most of our people have gone into exile to other planets. But now you are here! Today is the start of our redemption.’

I feel like I did on Yalton, a cross between a hero and a beast. I have to be positive, I think.

‘Do you know anything about a container of deadly material? Or anything about any new developments in the way the war is progressing?’

‘There has been news of a secret weapon that the Tourgens have but we don’t know any more than that, at the moment.’

‘Do you happen to know where the weapon might be?’

‘No, but it might be at the Tourgen base.’

Deria said she would go there in her light body to check it out as she was less likely to be noticed.

‘I’m getting a message from Sionn,’ Deria said.

‘I thought he couldn’t contact us here?’

‘Normally he wouldn’t, but the frequency has now been checked out safe, but only for me. It would be too risky to contact you or Reeas.’ I didn’t really understand but I accepted it. I am beginning to realize that Deria is an asset I would not want to be without.

She said, ‘Sionn has confirmed that there are four agents on Antarra, one has been identified as ‘Melion3; he is a Santine.’ The reaction is immediate; all eyes turn to a person who is in the hall, as he tries to escape, but is stopped by two guards at the entrance.

He shouted, ‘There is nothing you can do! If you don’t release Kallo in two days we will destroy Antarra and all the higher worlds in this part of the Universe!’

I said, ‘you do realize that you and everybody else will die, don’t you!’

‘Yes, but we will reincarnate on the lower planets, where Kallo will be the Ruler of this section of the Universe!’

I said, ‘Kallo won’t be allowed to escape, he will be placed in a monitored high security cell.’

‘Yes,’ He shouted. ‘But Kallo will eventually escape and rule, simply because the higher worlds will fall due to their being no physical planets to incarnate to. We know that Sionn won’t allow that and Kallo will be released. I will become a higher apprentice. But we are prepared to die.’

I can’t believe what I am hearing!

Thalo said, ‘We never imagined that one of our own people would betray us. He will be punished.’

‘There are still three agents on Antarra.’ I said, ‘What sort of people will they be? Could they be beings of a different race from Tourgen or Dresden?’

‘There are several races besides Tourgen on Antarra; they are mainly mercenaries brought in to create even more destruction. The weapons they use now are very crude as they don’t have the technology to replace the blasters and laser cannons they once had. Kallo will almost certainly have done the same with other highly evolved planets. We thought we were safe from invasion with our defense system but we weren’t, also we decommissioned most of our weapons many years before the war started.’

Deria said, ‘I will go to the Tourgen base now, I will send my thought messages to the ship, they won’t be intercepted, but you mustn’t send any to me.’

‘I understand,’ I said.

Once Deria had gone, I started to think deeply about the problem we have, we only had a short period of time to locate the container, or containers. We don’t know where they are, we don’t know where the agents are. I am feeling pretty low, but know I have the most powerful beings in the Universe on my side.

I was a simple type of person on Earth, a retired history teacher with a simple life. The things that have happened to me over a relatively short time have stunned me. I can’t really comprehend it, but I know I have to move Heaven and Antarra to bring my part of the story to an end.

Chapter 25-Tourgen Base

Deria has located the Tourgen base. She informed us of the location and that at least one of the containers is there, she also said she is going to check out the Dresden base. I can’t reply as that would have compromised us, so, I just had to trust Deria to know we will infiltrate the Tourgen base and retrieve the container.

We board the ship. I know the coordinates to the Tourgen base just by thought process with the ship, and I also take the time to study the Tourgen people from Debra, the ship’s computer, although she is much more than that, as you know.

I am amazed at the brutality of The Tourgen’s and The Dresden’s. My mind is reeling from the utter barbarity. How can something like the Tourgen’s evolve? The same can be said about the Dresden’s, and then I know! Both races had been manufactured by other beings. Can it possibly be Kallo? The Dresden’s are very similar to the Tourgen in build and strength. Debra said, there is no planet of origin for either the Tourgen’s or the Dresden’s! How can this be? My mind is in turmoil again. Why didn’t Siann tell me this? There is only one thing to do. I told Reas.

‘We will have to go in under invisibility mode and take our chances of being discovered. Reas agrees, as there is no time to spare.

The landscape over which we travel is scorched and dead! Very few buildings are standing, I wonder where people live, then I realize, these really aren’t people, at all, but cloned-beasts, well, the majority will be beasts; the leaders will be cloned from other intelligent life forms. We came to a large building that is protected by a large wall and watch towers, something like the buildings I saw in Roman-Britain many years before, only these are made from concrete and steel. There are guards on the towers and also on the walls.

The only thing we can do is bring the ship in over the wall and simply jump out when near the ground under our cloak of invisibility. The ship will then stay at a short distance until we need to escape.

I accessed Debra for any other info it might have but she didn't respond, I guess the consciousness of the place is such that she can't relate to it, like Sionn said, the technology we are using is too great, so with the quest for greater and greater technology we certainly lost something in that respect, one thing I do know is the leaders must have some form technology, but keep it to themselves; they are simply keeping the consciousness of the planet down. We had to destroy the control base as soon as we find the containers. We are in invisibility mode which is powered by a small wrist device that enables the ship to cloak us from a short distance, although, I dearly wish we had our light suits on. Reeas jumped out of the ship as it nears the ground, I follow, we headed for the obvious entrance and waited until a Tourgen guard came out, we then went in. There are no security people on the door and I am surprised to see no one until we came up to the guardroom, fifty yards along the corridor. We encounter two Tourgen guards who have only crude machete type weapons. Their senses seem to know something isn't right, but without our light suits on, and the invisibility mode in operation.

I am worried that they might be able to smell us and they might be able to hear us. We had to be very still and wait till someone came out of the room. They might not be able to smell us but I can certainly smell them. The feeling is eerie, they can't see us but we can see them and we can also see ourselves, I feel like a ghost! The door opens and a Tourgen came out. He stands there for a moment while another Tourgen, who obviously is a leader, as he ordered the other one to check the area. Then he shouted to the other two guards to go off duty and send two more guards. They went off to do as ordered leaving the door open, we walk in very quietly, suddenly the guard said, 'Hello, I've been expecting you.'

I went for my blaster but before I could get it out, I am frozen to the spot! Reeas is also in the same position.

'I assume you are the two agents who have come to locate the containers.'

Obviously, he can see us and disable us. I think back to what happened with Kallo on the ship at Relmar7. It is the same thing happening all over again.

What happened? I thought.

'You underestimated me, trainees. Don't you think we can figure out that someone would try to retrieve the containers like this? Who do you think you are dealing with?'

'Who are we dealing with?'

He didn't say anything, but just smiled.

'One thing is for sure, you won't be seeing your loved ones for a very long time, also, you will not be allowed to sleep or die! You will be chained in the dungeon and kept alive while I decide what to do with you. Oh, and be assured, we will find your ship, it will make a nice little prize for me, thank you.' With that, the two guards came in and dragged us off. My anger is starting to get the better of me, but I feel totally useless. Reeas can talk to me, and I can talk to her, but that is all. We are chained to a wall in a stinking hole in the basement with no light or any sort of fresh air.

Reeas said, 'Don't worry, Sionn will get us out.'

'What about the plan?'

'They know they can't detonate the containers, it would be the end for them also.'

I thought, yes, you're right, who in the Universe would go through with a plan like that. I asked Reeas who she thinks the Tourgen officer is. She said, she didn't know, but he had to be someone big, I said, how come Sionn didn't know about this guy? Surely with all the info we have he must be aware of these things?'

Reeas said, 'Dan, please relax, we will be OK, he knows he can't kill us.'

'No, I thought, but he can torture us and we can't do a thing about it. I didn't want Reeas to know this so I keep silent. I may not be able to contact Sionn, but I will try to contact Deria by meditation. I imagine I am back in my home on Earth sitting up in bed with my eyes closed, and my mind focused on the inner screen, or the Third-Eye as it is known in Yoga. Sometime later, I don't know how long, Deria's voice came through.

'Dan, I know what has happened, please be patient and I will try to disable the control panel, do not try to send any message back but just stay as you are, and relax, you are doing well for a human.'

The relief is something I know might be of use to the enemy so I had to use all my will power and just stay calm. I don't even say anything to Reeas in case we are being monitored. I don't even risk calling the ship to smash our way out, which is something I can do later if we had to. Several hours went by and then the two same guards came in; one said, 'You will be stripped and flogged, and then your skin will be sliced off bit by bit. What do you think of that?'

I said, 'If I had my strength back, I would kill you both.'

That seemed to infuriate them. He said,

'You're only a cloned Tourgen, you wouldn't last two minutes.'

'Give me a chance then.'

They looked at each other before stroking Reeas on the leg as though they are going to assault her, and then they walk out. Maybe they are trying to get me to divulge my thoughts, I had to keep calm.

Reeas said, 'Don't worry, Dan, things will work out, I can take whatever these animals give out'

I thought, no, I won't let them touch you. Our luck must have been running as half an hour later the two Tourgen guards came back. The biggest one said, 'OK, Clone, you will be able to move in the next minute. If you can beat me in a fight to the death, which is unlikely, you will then have to fight my partner, and if you beat him, you can both go free, but if we beat you, we will take the female as our prize. Is it a deal?'

‘Yes, I said.’ I feel good, I also felt a strange liking for the way the Tourgen’s do business, they are animalistic, but they are also warriors. Maybe I am wrong; maybe they do come from a planet somewhere. All I really know is I have to kill them. I started to get my feeling back, Reeas also. Within a short time, I am back to my old grumpy self, obviously the leader didn’t know about this contest. I said, ‘what about the officer, won’t you be disciplined for this.’

‘We are our own boss; we can make our own decisions.’

I think, no, he doesn’t know. So be it, I said to myself.

‘Where do we fight?’

‘Here.’

‘OK, are there any rules?’

‘Yes, no weapons, we just use pure strength, and our nails and teeth.’

‘Right,’ I said. I know Reeas can take the other one as she had twice his strength, looking at him, he is about the same size as me but I had many times the strength, but I didn’t bargain for the speed at which he came at me. He lunged for my eyes with his claws; I managed to dodge him and punched him in the stomach. He fell back in agony; I feel pity as I know I can kill him. Maybe I didn’t have to kill him? It was the other Tourgen I wanted, the leader.

‘Look.’ I said, ‘you don’t have to die, tell me where the leader is, and I will spare you.’ Reeas knows it won’t make any difference and went for the other guard, she ripped his throat out in one movement. The other guard saw this and went for Reeas; I jumped on his back put my arm around his neck and broke it with one pull.

‘What now?’ Reeas said, ‘we can’t risk going to the guardroom in case the leader is there. We don’t know if he can still disable us. We have to find the source of the power to the control panel.’

I said, ‘We will have to risk bringing the ship close by the underground room and blasting the wall out. The plan is discovered anyway, so we may as well use force. Reeas agreed, but said what if the leader has managed to access the ship? I feel cold just thinking about it, if he has, he is truly Kallo’s equal. I am about to summon the ship when a message from Deria comes through, she said, ‘I have managed to disable the control panel you should be able to get to the power room which is near to the room where you are, destroy it with whatever you can.’

OK, I think, I can send a message to Deria, so I asked her where the leader is, she said he is trying to locate the ship.

Reeas and I focused our minds on the ship, or Debra, as I called it, and within a minute we managed to bring it to the outside of the wall where we are located. Then all we had to do is simply have it push its way through the wall, much easier than blasting through. The hull of the ship is like a knife going through butter, in the meantime, there were Tourgen guards beginning to make their way down the corridor to us.

The ship is already all the way in the building, so all we had to do is simply push our way in through the ship’s wall. We can already see the Tourgens trying to do the same thing, only they just slid off the surface, like a ski on ice. We located the power room and blasted it to oblivion; in fact, the whole place is destroyed. I know Sionn is going to be angry, well maybe not angry, Sionn doesn't get angry but disappointed. The first thing to do is locate the leader which isn't too hard as Debra found him simply by his DNA, the only problem is, he is dead!

Deria said he had detonated the container! Before he blasted himself!

Chapter 26-Encounter with a God

While preparing to make the journey back to Terick 3 I know we have failed, the container is now destroyed and the spores will contaminate the Galaxy, then in time, the Universe! Sionn didn't seem too bothered, mind you, he isn't the easiest person to read, and neither is Grenwer. I feel dejected, and they know it. Reeas must have sensed this as she came over and rubbed my arm. Sionn is now on the ships screen looking unruffled.

'He said, 'When did you first know the containers weren't dangerous?'

Reeas said, 'I had my suspicions at Far-Station, but I wasn't sure.'

I said, 'what?'

'Yes, the containers were false, we had to find the agent, that was the first priority and we have. Kallo managed to gather an army of helpers and agents, some of whom are very dangerous. It has taken many years simply to locate the planets where they live, as you know, we can't access some of the places because of the lower consciousness of the people.'

'So, this whole plan is a trap to capture Kallo, and his helpers.'

'Yes,' 'but we couldn't tell you or Reeas, the only being we can divulge our plan to is Deria because she is of a higher race; her thought waves cannot be tracked by any lower life forms, only her kind can do this, and us.'

We would like to thank you, Dan, and Reeas, you have proved yourself to be brave and inventive, we want you to now consider whether you want to continue your apprenticeship with us while you rest and dream.

The battle is still not over, as there are still agents to be found, but we will discuss that later. The goal which we set ourselves has been achieved. The war between the Dresden's and the Tourgen's has been stopped and they will be relocated elsewhere. The planet Yalton is now being reborn and Far-Station is no more.'

I feel elation, stupidity, amazement, and love all at once. All I can say is 'Thank you.'

Sionn and Grenwer smiled, and for once I did, it must look stupid on this big ugly beast face, but I don't care.

'Please reports to Terick 3 for debrief,' Sionn said.

It will take two days to get back to Terick 3, so, we decide to dream travel while our bodies are asleep on the ship. Reeas said, 'Where would you like to visit this time?'

I said, I would like to know what happened in my last incarnation before I became Dan Sherman. She said, I won't like it. I said, well, I still want to know.

'OK,' she said, 'you were killed at Normandy in the Second World War.'

‘That explains why I was always interested in things to do with that war.’

‘Please rest, Dan, and dream,’

We wake up in the dream state sitting on a grass bank looking at a raging battle, there is an armada of ships bombarding the shoreline, and the invasion troops are getting ready to land. Now it was all coming back to me!

‘I was in one of those landing craft. ‘That’s enough’ I said. ‘I know the rest.’

Reeas said, ‘do you want to visit your wife, Elaine?’

‘Yes,’ I said, ‘More than ever, but first I want to go to the somewhere peaceful and spiritual. I’ve had my share of cruel and ugly.’

Reeas said, ‘I know a place that is just right for you, I was taken there by a spiritual master many years ago in the dream state. It is a planet at the far reaches of the Universe, but is no more than a dream away.’

We sat down to meditate.

After a few minutes I find myself standing in an unbelievable landscape! Reeas is at my side. This planet must be a giant, I think, as the view is limitless no matter how far I looked, there is no end to the horizon!

Reeas said, ‘This is one of the highest regions of the Astral Plane. A planet called Nemura. Only the highest spiritual beings come here.’

‘How come, I’m here then?’ I know I still have a long way to go before I can call myself highly spiritual.

‘You have been granted a visit, Reeas said, come; let us go to the spiritual city in this region.’

We flew over the landscape hand in hand, and I still can’t make out the horizon, it must be an optical illusion, the mountains are spectacular, higher and more beautiful than anything I have ever seen. The emotion I am feeling is of ecstasy, as we soar through the mountains, finally coming to a rest on the side of a giant peak which has a man-made balcony, and French windows! Reeas said, ‘This is usually an inaccessible place.’ I look around; words cannot say how much I want to remain here.

‘The vibrations are starting to affect you, I can tell, don’t be alarmed, you will become accustomed in a while.’ She is right, my senses are reeling.

‘Please come with me,’ she said.

We walk down some stone steps into the heart of the mountain; we come to a large room with a red and gold carpet. Sitting in the lotus position on a large golden cushion is a giant of a man with golden skin, he has no hair at all, and gold bangles on his wrists and ankles and wears a loin cloth. He looks about thirty years old, but I know he is much older than that! He is obviously in meditation as his eyes are closed.

Reeas motioned for us to sit down; I automatically sat in the lotus position, as I used to practice yoga in my life as a teacher. As soon as I close my eyes, I become ‘Aware,’ in a different state! The man who was sitting on the cushion is now standing on a mountain path, and we are there also.

‘I am Mannus, Lord of this plane.’

I am totally amazed! The love and light coming from this being is indescribable!

‘Come walk with me,’ he said. I automatically thought of the wonderful walks I used to have in the Lake District in my last life on Earth, but this is different, although in many ways it is the same, the scenery is beautiful, but it is the simple truth that we are what we are in our own consciousness! If we are satisfied with our selves mentally and spiritually then we are in heaven, so to speak.

‘You have grasped something eternal.’ Mannus said, ‘Now, look,’ and with a wave of his hand, the landscape changed! There is now a gigantic mountain in front of us many times bigger than the others. This is the mountain of God. The light is staggering to my eyes even though I’m not in the physical body. Every colour in the spectrum is here, many more than in the scientific world of man. I feel I am about to burst with love and light. In fact, Mannus said we had to limit our stay as it is dangerous for us to remain too long in the presence of the light. In the next instant we are back in the room.

Mannus became aware of us, but he just sits there without moving. I don’t know what to say so I keep quiet. He then said, ‘What have you learned?’ I thought long and hard, I know it is better to say nothing than speak wrongly.

‘I’m learning,’ I said!

He smiled. Reeas said, ‘You are learning, Dan.’ In many ways, I feel like a child, and in fact, I am, compared to Reeas and Sionn, but, Mannus, is something else, he is on a level which I can only dream of.

We wake up back on the ship in time for landing on Terick 3.

Now, Students what have you learned? Please upload your thoughts to the databank. Thank You. Chapter 27-Debrief

We are now on Terick 3, and we are now in the cloned bodies of our former selves. My new Dan Sherman body is thirty years old and has none of my old ailments such as shingles. Sionn said, we can enter into any life form in the physical world. If my Dan Sherman body is killed, then I would incarnate into another one which will be held in storage on any number of higher planets in the physical world. ‘Wow,’ I said, ‘My body is in storage on thousands of planets?’

‘Millions.’ said Sionn, ‘but not fully grown, your DNA is all we need, we can grow a clone in three days, and then you simply shift your consciousness into it.’

‘So, I can live on the physical and the spiritual at the same time.’

‘We do anyway,’ he replied, ‘but people don’t realize it. In dreams, we can travel to the end of time, also to the edge of the Universe. That is what I want to talk to you about.

We want you to consider going on another mission.’ The hairs stood up on the back of my new neck.

‘I wanted some time to visit my Family.’

‘You will still be able to visit them, as she and your son are about to incarnate into other lives. I advise you to wait awhile, and let them become accustomed to their new identities.’

‘What about the Elaine I know,’ I said.

‘The Elaine that you know is still there, you will still be able to visit her, although the essence of Elaine, as soul, is moving to another body.’ My mind is reeling, and Sionn knows it.

‘Do not worry, this mission, although important, is going to be an experience for you and Reeas. Deria also wishes to go.’

‘What is the mission?’ I asked.

‘We have information that the “10973 Universe” is under threat!’ Sionn just stands there and looks as calm as ever. I am again, lost for words.

‘Do you mean we live in a Multiple Universe?’

‘Yes, and the Guardians over there are in need of help.’

‘OK,’ I said, ‘now is the time to take time out.’

‘What do you mean?’

‘I’m only one man, I said, and still learning, I so nearly botched everything up more than once.’

Sionn is unimpressed. ‘You are a Guardian, and as such, you are unlimited, please believe that. We contacted you because you are ready. Once you truly believe that, you will become one.’

I know he is right. Sionn motioned me to follow him,

‘It’s time to look into to the light book again.’

The book itself is the same but the light is different. It is purple!

‘Yes, you notice the color,’ Sionn said, ‘purple is a spiritual color.’

‘Why is the color different?’

‘You won’t be able to use your light suit while in U10973.’

‘Why?’

The physiology of the place won’t allow it. That is why you will be given extra spiritual and mental powers.’

What about protection’

‘That is the thing; you will probably die many times over there, so we want you to be prepared.’

‘What do you mean, I said, what kind of place is it?’

‘The make-up of the place is very different from anything you have ever experienced. Sionn said, but you can take it.’

‘What if I don’t want to, ‘take it’.

‘You are being unusually difficult, today.’ ‘You will still be able to use the ship.’

‘How come, we can use the ship and not the light suit?’

I realize I have, again, made a mistake when he looks at me in a stern way.

‘OK,’ I said, ‘I get it; the suits don’t work because we are made of different stuff.

‘Please look into the book,’ he said.

‘Why have I got these negative feelings?’

‘Dan, look at me. Do you trust me?’

‘Yes, with all my heart.’

‘And do you remember Mannus?’

‘Yes.’

‘What were your feelings while you were with him?’

They were of joy and love beyond anything I’ve ever encountered.’

‘Well, that is how you will feel after looking into the light book, plus, you will have spiritual protection on any plane of existence. In other words, you will fear nothing while in the physical body; whatever that body may be.’

Now, I feel good, just the talk inspires me, how can I have any doubts.

‘Your human doubt will melt away within the next few hours, but you have to keep your mind in check. Now look and rest, you will be taken to the border of the 10973 Universe for preparation, God speed!’

Chapter 28-Preparation for U 10973

The light is all powerful, drawing me in farther and further. The love is something that can be felt, but not in the physical body. I find myself on a hill top, looking over a vast plane of mountains which are too numerous to count. I look around and see an Oriental looking man standing in the doorway of a small hut; I can see straight away he is a Spiritual-Master of the highest order. I feel like dropping at his feet because the urge to be near him is too strong.

‘Welcome,’ he said, I am Xi; I am the gatekeeper of this plane. It is the separation point between the 10973 Universe and the Humanoid Universe!’

I try to speak, but the words won’t come out.

‘I see you are having difficulties, please come into my home, I have a friend of yours here.’

I know it is Reeas, before I walk through the door. I look at her with seemingly different eyes? I can't explain it. My whole outlook is different. I feel a confidence I never felt before, also the love I feel is way beyond anything I have ever experienced.

'I feel different.'

'That is the light of this plane changing your spiritual and physical being,' Xi said.

I look at Reeas and see she has purple eyes!

'Yes,' Xi said, 'I notice you see the predominant color of this plane in your friend's eyes; you also have them.'

After resting awhile, I start to get used to the overall beauty of this plane. The hut we are in is very Spartan but I can tell Xi doesn't need many material things.

'I want you to come with me to the border of Universe 10973; I know you will need information which is only acquired there, also you will need to acclimatise yourself to the vibrations of the atoms.' I asked Reeas if she is OK, she said she had been aware of this place before and is already used to it, in part. We walk out of the hut into a different world; everything is hazy, and the colors are brighter.

'Don't worry,' Xi said, 'you will acclimatize in a short while. Prepare yourself for a whole different way of life.'

'How do you mean?'

'I mean, life on U.10973, isn't all humanoid!'

'What do you mean? I said, again.'

'Life consists of all types of physical forms, which can be intelligent or not, now, stand at my side, Reeas, stand on my other side.' Xi then put his hands on the back our necks. It is as though the light of the Sun had entered me. I don't know where I am, and I don't care, all I want to do is stay here forever.

I become aware; I am back in the debrief room. Sionn is there looking at me with a different look! I then realized it is me who is different!

'Now, you know something of what I am responsible for,' he said.

'Yes,' I said, 'and I know you can handle it. I also realize I can now handle a great deal more, also.'

'Good,' he said. 'Reeas is also Ready-for-Anything.'

You now have the ability to function on U10973, also, the relevant data of most of the life forms which are seen throughout the planets there. The predominant life form which is now a danger is called the Llantrea, a half plant half human type creature. It has got out of control on numerous planets, if it is not checked, it will become uncontrollable in a fairly short time. We want you to be eaten by one, so we can determine how to combat it.'

'What,' I said.
