Survival Seeds

1. Introduction

Pictured here is just part of my personal seed bank. My entire seed bank consists of over 3 million seeds and over 150 varieties.

I continue to locate, buy and test heirloom seeds from various companies to enlarge our seed bank storage as well as planting some now to enjoy during the current growing season.

I can tell you right now after having purchased and tested various companies that if you want high quality heirloom, organic, open pollinated, non gmo seeds that you can trust Texas Ready, Heirloom Organics, Veganseeds, My Patriot Supply and Quality Seeds Northwest.

When you're looking to build your seed bank, running to a retail store and grabbing a few envelopes of seeds is not going to cut it.

You need a deep large bank of seeds for you to sow, store and share.

Now I know there are some survivalist that have stacks of freeze dried foods, canned goods and so on that can last months if not years... and that's fine... until...

...Until the food runs out and you have no way to replenish your food supply.
