Welcome!

If you feel as passionate as I do after you read this story, please help me get this free ebook to as many people as possible. I will also do my best to make it well worth the few minutes it will take to get the news out to your family and friends who might also love to read this story.

There is a good chance that major corporations will try to make this story go away for good, and you will understand why after you read it. You can help keep this story going even if that happens. Being on my email list will help me keep you informed of any news that comes about.

Many of your friends and family are suffering and you can help them by posting the URL link on your Facebook wall and/or emailing the link to them.

If you run a blog, you could also do a write up about this story and provide a link to the site.

If you suffer from allergies, I know you will find this story interesting. If you have friends or family members who suffer from allergies, they will probably appreciate you sending this PDF to them, or giving them a link to the website.

I am taking a huge risk by offering you this story, but I feel like it's important and something that I need to do regardless of the potential risk.

When things in your life change so dramatically, and in such a quick amount of time, it makes you wonder.

Since I actually went from not caring if I died when allergies were so bad for so long of a time, to not having any allergy issues at all, in such a quick amount of time, there must be something I'm doing, or have done that caused them to go away. But, I can't say there was any one thing in particular, and I need to say that for legal reasons that will come clear as you read in the legal disclaimer below that I needed to create in order to cover my tail end.

You are welcome to pass this PDF along to anyone you wish.

IMPORTANT DISCLAIMER

You must read this disclaimer section below before you read my personal story in this PDF.

I am sorry, but unfortunately, I need to get these legal disclaimers out of the way before I tell you about my personal story and struggle with allergies.

I need to go over all of the legal disclaimers to cover my tail end in order to keep anyone, or any business from making my life miserable if you decide you want to follow what I have done in my life as far as the changes I made during the time my allergies vanished quite surprisingly.

Why do I need to go over these disclaimers? Let me put it like this ... if you created something that people followed, and as a result, millions of dollars in profits and revenue were lost by companies and corporations, those billion dollar industries can make your life a living mess by coming after you in every legal way you could imagine. Just like the drug cartel would come after you in a bad way for cutting into their revenue stream, the corporations like to do things legally, and when they throw millions of dollars into lawsuits on you, they can bury anyone quickly. It happens all the time when big corporations want to make people shut up and go away.

If you decided to duplicate how I lived my life at the time my allergies went away completely, and if you decided to help me get my story out to other people, and if those other people all did the same, there would be many changes in the revenue stream of companies that sell foods that I cut out of my diet, and if that happens and the companies know my story was the cause for people changing, those companies would look for any reason to make me go away. They would come after me just like they do with any other company that threatens their revenue stream.

So, let me make this perfectly clear ... I am not going to point the finger at any one thing here. I am not bad mouthing anyone or any business or any product or service.

I am not a Doctor. I am not a spokesperson for any company or product. I am not endorsing any product, service, food, supplement, additive, ingredient, chemical or anything at all. I am not attacking any product, food, supplement, additive, chemical, ingredient, service, company, corporation or government agency.

You understand by reading my story that you are only reading my life experience, and if you decide you wish to follow what I have done in my life, that it is done so on your own, and according to your own decisions or based on consulting your family physician.

I am not here to tell you that any one thing works to get rid of allergies. I am not here to offer remedies or solutions, or advice about how to get rid of allergies.

Absolutely nothing in this personal story of mine is claiming any one thing to be a remedy for getting rid of allergies.

If you decide to try and duplicate anything that I have written about in this PDF about my story during the time I had allergies, you should consult with a professional before doing so.

By reading my personal story here, you understand that you are reading my personal story only. If you decide to change your life and habits according to how I changed my habits, you do so under your own decisions and you agree not to hold me liable for following any changes according to any one part of my personal story you are about to read.

By reading my following personal story, you understand that this is only my personal story and it is not advice in any way, shape or form.

By reading this story, you understand that I am not for or against any particular product, food, additive, supplement, ingredient or chemical that I may mention in this story.

I am not claiming that any one particular thing mentioned in this story was exactly what made my allergies go away completely.

I am not claiming that any change in my life that I will mention in this story was the result of my allergies going away completely.

I am not claiming that my diet change was the result of my allergies going away. I am not claiming that any one particular product, food, service, additive, chemical or ingredient in any food was the reason my allergies went away.

My allergies could have gone away on their own as a result of simply timing, or for no reason at all.

I, this book and the information in it make no claim to be offering you a solution, cure or remedy for your allergies.

If there are any other legal disclaimers I have not made in writing in this PDF according to all government, state and local laws, you agree to knowing what those legal claims are, and you can assume that they all have been made in this PDF.

This story is all true and is based on how I lived my life during the time my allergies went away. The information offered in this PDF is only information telling a story about my life. You are reading this PDF only as a story about my life and the decisions I made, or did not make.

I will make mention to certain foods, chemicals, additives and ingredients that I chose to either remove from my diet or add to my diet, but this does not offer claim that adding or omitting any one particular food, chemical, additive or ingredient was the result of my allergies going away or the cause of my allergies.

I will make mention of certain biological functions and processes, but this mention does not claim that any one particular biological function was the reason I had allergies, or the reason my allergies went away.

The name of this domain, haltallergies.com, or any other name mentioned in this PDF, is simply a name and does not offer any type of solicitation that your allergies will be halted or stopped as a result of any information you read in this PDF or from the website haltallergies.com.

You should not take any information in this PDF as advice or direction. You should stop reading this PDF if you do not understand these disclaimers.

Okay, so hopefully this will keep the corporate big dogs off my tail end just in case you decide you want to ignore all of my warnings and disclaimers.

About Me

I want you to know who I am and what I do, so that you can see I'm just as human and normal as anyone else in this world.

My name is Dave Drew. I'm just a simple, easy going human being and probably not much different than you. We probably even have several things in common, and based on that fact of you reading this story, you probably have allergies and can relate to some of the nightmares I've been through.

Right now, I am 52 years old.

As of yesterday, I have been married 14 years to my best friend and the most wonderful person with the biggest heart you could ever imagine. She is the most amazing human being I have ever met and one of the reasons I asked her to marry me. If you knew her, you would agree. It's actually her birthday today and I keep getting that gnawing voice in the back of my mind telling me to stop writing now and get her something for her birthday. I will in a bit, but I just want to get this on paper while I am in the mood to write.

I'm a typical guy who puts things off until the last minute and then I run around getting things done in the nick of time.

I don't do drugs. I don't drink alcohol. Although, I used to be an occasional party going guy, but not real proud about it at this time in my life.

What you may have already figured about me is that I like to help people, and I do that in many different ways on the Internet from all of my blogs and websites that offer information, products or books that I sell or give away.

If you happen to do a search for me on the Internet, you will find me everywhere. I'm all over the Internet in many different places.

If you run across someone saying something not so good about me, it's probably because they are motivated at taking stabs back at me because of something I exposed about them, or possibly because I did something to help people that cut into their revenue stream.

I have this way of ticking people off because I like to offer advice, tips and information that exposes scams. You can check out my masmoola.com blog some time if you like.

If you look past any of the negative stuff on the Internet from the people who don't like me exposing them, you will find that I am a good human being and that I like to help people.

I've just recently committed my life to reaching out to help people in any way that I can, but most importantly, in a couple of particular ways that I really need to tell you about coming up.

You can learn more about one of my important commitments at davedrew.com where that site also talks about one of the four money saving books I wrote that help people save more money and also helps homeless kids earn extra money.

If you run across any of my blogs or websites, you will notice that they all offer some type of help or advice to hopefully improve your life in some way. I seem to gravitate to reaching out to help people in as many ways as I can, because I truly believe that God put me through this particular tough life in a way that would make me want to reach out to help. Maybe God had me go through these allergies in this particular way so that I can reach out to help others. I don't know, but I have a lot of faith in God.

Sometimes I feel like God makes me suffer to help you, because I think God knows I'm going to take risks and be motivated to reach out and help. Who knows, maybe God actually motivates me to reach out. I don't know how or why it all works the way it does, but I know I just love helping whenever possible. Helping out just feels natural and right. It makes my heart sing. You might already know what I'm talking about.

I've been blessed with a good life now. I had to go through some tough trenches to get here, but if I can help people with my experiences, I would go through those tough trenches all over again.

If I can help you in some way, and make a difference in your life, because of my tough life experiences, it will have been worth all of the misery I had to go through.

Okay, without having to bore you with more pages of details of my life, I want to mention one more important thing before I offer you my personal story about allergies.

Since I like to help people in every way possible, I will mention, at every opportunity I can fit in, about one particular way I like to help, which is why I need to let you know about a program I created that you might more than likely also benefit from. Or, you might even know people who can benefit from this program.

I know you got this PDF to learn about my personal story with allergies, and I know your allergies are important, but I think you will agree that this one program I'm about to tell you about is probably just as important, and can also be incredibly beneficial for you, which is why I must mention it on every website and in every book that I offer.

I need to pay money out of my pocket to get this allergy story to you and to everyone else who suffers from allergies, and I have no other way to replenish that money that it costs to get this story to people. I need your help, but promise you, I'm going to make your helping me way more than worth it through this program.

The coolest and best part about this program I created is that I've created it so that you actually benefit way more than you could ever expect, and in way you never could have imagined.

I mentioned above that I authored four money saving books, and I give away most of the profits from the sale of those books to help homeless kids in America.

You can get one or all four of my money saving books from rayroadredtails.com, and any purchase will help homeless kids in America through the Stand Up For Kids program, and/or help a sponsored homeless kid on rayroadredtails.com.

If you bought one or all four of my money saving books from rayroadredtails.com, I could not only help homeless kids, I can keep spending money to get this PDF allergies story to people, and you will learn at least one cool money saving tip that will more than pay for your small investment in my books. Everyone wins.

I'm also going to offer you a huge discount coupon code for half off on the purchase of all four of my money saving books from rayroadredtails.com to encourage you to read all four books, because there are unique money saving tips in all four of those books that can really change your financial life if you are struggling from paycheck to paycheck.

If you want to help out and get half off of all four of my money saving books, copy and paste this following coupon code in the box provided on the check out page after you click on the "Add To Cart" button for all four of my money saving books from rayroadredtails.com.

Coupon code: HALFOFFRRR

If you can only get one of my money saving books, be sure to get The Truth About Saving Money. But, let me tell you a little secret ... you should get all four right up front not only to help homeless kids, but because there will be at least one incredible money saving tip in all four of those books that will put a lot of money back into your pocket. Thus, your investment in all four of those money saving books offers a greater value and return on your small investment.

The information in Truth About Saving Money is what social psychologists are just recently discovering people need to become aware of in order to get out of debt and stay out of debt.

Basically, all four books are an investment that I know you will be very happy you got after you save a lot of money from only one of the many unique money saving tips you will learn.

These unique money saving tips improved my life beyond anything I could have ever imagine, which is why I was also motivated to write those four books about saving money.

Here is my promise and guarantee to you.

If you can help me help homeless kids by getting my four money saving books from this program I created, I will put a solid guarantee on the money saving information you read, and if you don't think the money saving tips can improve your financial life or help you save more money than the amount you invested in those four books, I will gladly give all of your money back with no questions asked.

This program is a win-win for everyone, because you will get to put more money back into your pocket than the amount you invest in those four money saving books, and a homeless kid will benefit as well.

I mention about this program everywhere I can because of the incredible benefits it offers everyone. I would not waste your time mentioning it if it were not incredibly beneficial for you and also homeless kids. Plus, the extra money I get helps me to keep my quest going of offering this free PDF to people who have allergies.
