How sure are you that you're on the outside and not on the inside of a computer?

Would we sleep better if we pressed the snooze button before going to bed?

Dang! Only healthy food again.
Why does that keep happening?

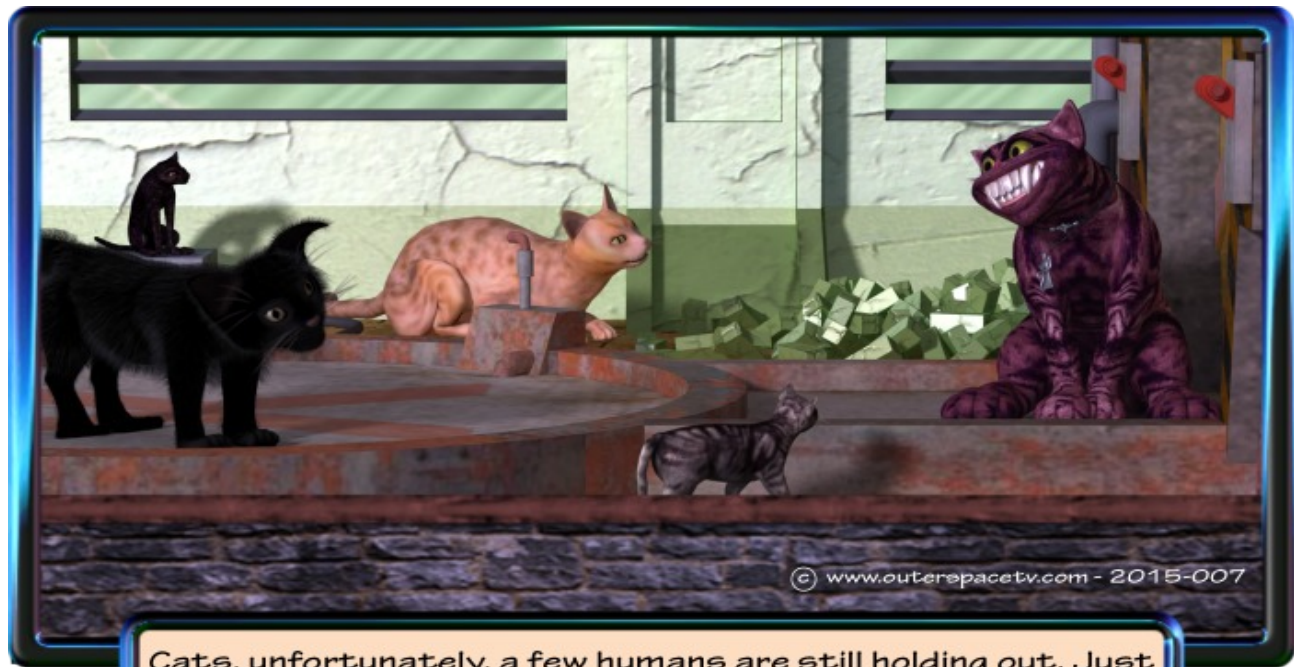

I discovered this great new diet. First you eat absolutely nothing, next you get that haunted look and the best part is that you never gain the weight back!

Isn't it great how technology has helped us remember what we look like? No more getting a fright every time we look in the mirror!

Mom, we have to talk. You do know that I'm actually ... you know ... uhm ... straight?
