PowerDress

In the current sea of forgettable pop stars, few have got what it takes to show that they're a cut above the rest. Exciting new talent PowerDress, however, has enough pedigree, talent and charisma to mark her out as one of the most exciting upcoming talents in the game. Courted for songs by the likes of Lana Del Rey and coming across like a one-woman version of Hurts, she's seriously hot property.

Also known as Penny F, her impressive song-writing credits include Del Rey's stunning 'National Anthem', Rui Da Silva's 'New Lover' (a Pete Tong Essential New Tune, no less) and songs for the legendary Arthur Baker. A former Brit School student with a degree in Pop Music Vocals from the Academy of Contemporary Music, she's finally taking her turn to step into the spotlight and show what she is capable of. Based in London, her voice packs a serious punch, full of vigour and emotion yet never strained or unnecessarily over-the-top.

PowerDress' debut single 'Torture', is produced by Elrose aka Tom Devos who is one half of DEvolution. Torture is an incredibly catchy slice of sun-drenched pop-dance, dripping with bright, feel-good synths and hard-grooving bass that perfectly compliment her powerful and gracefully controlled vocals. Taking flavours from '80s pop and '90s dance and fusing them into a slick contemporary package, it's one of the most impressive debuts of the year and an enticing taste of her forthcoming album (due for release in 2015).

Leanne Louise - Blood Hearts EP

I am always amazed by Leanne and here is her latest EP which is lovingly set as a FREE release!

Mr Magician

A magical and mystical tone, pumped up with an upbeat tempo. Catchy lyrics, the sounds perfectly match this track and atmosphere intended. This is a piece that you could hear in a fantasy movie just when the action is building up and emotions are soaring.

Running

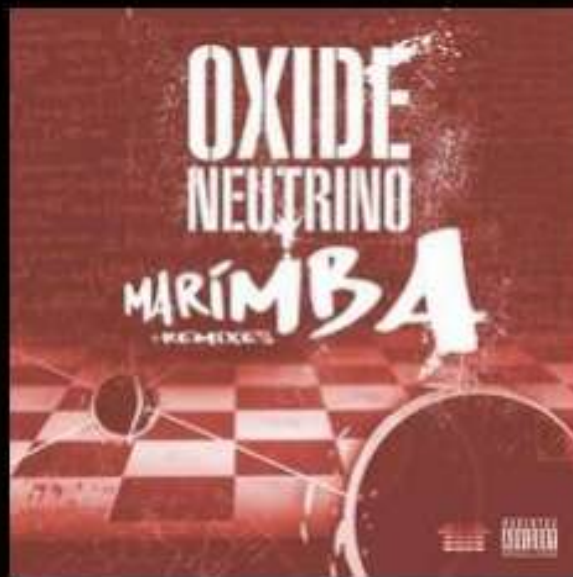

Glass House part two, kicks off straight away with an intriguing rural tone. A darker yet compelling atmosphere accompanies Leanne's sweet voice. The break is a moment of genius, drawing in your attention, making you feel the emotions portrayed.

Blood Hearts

A swaying rhythm, deep vocals with a lovely piano backdrop. Rising with pure heartfelt passion. Gorgeous tones complimenting the vocals with small touches of cymbals for extra effect.

Oxide and Neutrino - Marimba

After spending the best part of 2014 performing and touring the UK, the 'O&N' known to all as Oxide & Neutrino are back to smash your air wave speakers again with a new single release entitled 'Marimba' taken from their current EP 'QuarksAndLeptons'. Oxide & Neutrino are best known for their 2001 platinum hit album, 'Execute' which soared the official UK charts landing them a number #1 with 'Bound 4 Da Reload' along with a string of successful top 10 and top 20 hits including 'No Good For Me', 'Up Middle Finger' and 'Devils Nightmare', which was the lead track for Hollywood's box office smash movie 'Tomb Raider' starring Angelina Jolie.

The Garage duo have since in the last few years been crafting their sound and trying to develop for their loyal supporters music that represents the real club scene - they have also been touring and performing up and down the country and abroad from countries such as Ibiza to Dubai. 2014 has seen Oxide & Neutrino excel to the big stages to perform SW4 festival on the Speaker Box Stage, Kiss Fresh concert and Outbreak Festival to name a few with the help of William Morris Entertainment Talent agency.

The track 'Marimba' is a sure crowd pleaser and was selected by BBC 1xtra's Mista Jam, as his track to pioneer as his promo special for support on his show at present along with phenomenal support from social networking media since their sell-out concert last year November with So Solid Crew at the Indigo O2! Oxide & Neutrino are back in full effect and ready to climb back into the chart topping spot at last!

"Ashea presents a brand new track to be released December 14th. The original with urban preppy attitude on the beats accompanying the sexy vocals. A TS7 edit gives a whole new feeling with bumpy beats and a lighthearted vibrant melody with choppy cuts. Other remixes included by Wideboys, TS7, Lynx & Deepmilo" Mizz Ruby

"We like to introduce you to brand new artists who we think are pretty much amazeballs, ladies and gents say hello to Ashea" Maximum Pop

"Definitely one to watch in 2015" Popshock

"Ready to take on the world with her unique sound" Female First

Let You Go is the long awaited follow up to Ashea's debut single 'Whatcha Thinkin' (featured on Clubland, Chartshow Dance & Vevo). Co-produced by Ashea and Red Triangle (One Direction, The Saturdays, Cheryl Cole, Ashley Roberts) and written by the multi-talented singer herself, Let You Go features an A list remix package from Wideboys (Kiss FM), TS7 (Kiss Fresh, 1xtra), Lynx (Hospital Records) & Deepmilo (Chartshow).

Ashea (described as Gwen Stefani meets Nelly Furtado) was born in the seaside town of Hastings to a family of singers & performers. Ashea worked with RAab Stevenson vocal coach of Rihanna and Justin Timberlake and was given career advice by pop legend Kelly Rowland during her sessions. With her performance skills honed, Ashea returned to Europe to learn music production. The Let You Go video was directed by up and coming talent Konstantin Ermakov who worked with Ashea to bring to life her original concept.

'Let You Go' is about how experiences shape who we become, especially first experiences, which we rarely forget and which hold a place deep in our hearts and minds. I chose to shoot the video in a school environment as this is where most of us experience a lot of things for the first time. In the video I break into the head teacher's office and find some keys, I then go with my friends and start dancing in the gym, surrounded by lights. I like to think that this signifies how, breaking the rules can sometimes be a good thing, and you may just find the key to where you want to be. I believe it's important to surround ourselves with people that make us happy, things that we love doing, and go to places that inspire us... So essentially the meaning of the story is "Go do what you love, push boundaries, live how you want to live, have amazing experiences which you'll want to never let go of..." Ashea

Knuckle Touch

It was only a few weeks ago when I was given the "All Aboard" to join the fantastic four that makes up Audiation Magazine. After reading a couple issues and seeing that there is a high majority of dance and house music included in the magazine, (both genres I am completely unfamiliar with), I started to do my own research. Figures. Not only is the place that I was born and raised the home to jazz and blues, but it curated a little thing known as house music. Chicago, man...full of surprises.

Frankie Knuckles was the first disc jockey to start spinning synthesized music with pop and disco at The Warehouse, a dance club in Chicago. That is where the name 'house' music came from. The Godfather of House Music was at Warehouse for five years, until he opened his own club in Chicago called the Power Plant in 1982. He then turned to break into the UK in Delirium where Chicago house artists were in high demand.

Alright now, reading research about this guy can really only tell me so much. Wanting to listen to the style of his remixes and what gives him the title "Godfather of House Music," I dug deeper. Here are my favorite tracks of his.

Your Love

Tears

Baby I

Rain Falls

Upon further research of Knuckles, I came across some of his favorite tracks which are listed below for a highly recommended listen.

- Colonel Abrams - Trapped
- Sharon Redd - Can You Handle It
- Fat Larry's Band - Act Like You Know
- Positive Force - You Got the Funk
- Jimmy Bo Horn - Spank
- D-Train - You're the One For Me

The beats. The sound of overlapped electronic drum, effects and reverb vocals. The sound that sparks dance moves you probably didn't even know existed. This is all due to an experiment in music to create a positive and upbeat dance vibe in a club that was originally only exclusive to black, gay men. Even though he was taken too soon, just earlier this year, Frankie Knuckles' mark on the world is legendary.

It's a strange feeling finding out that I grew up in a place that has left such an impact on the world. Especially since I am always searching for new music. House music is a very unique genre that will continue to reinvent existing or non-existing tunes. So, sending a fist-bump to Frankie Knuckles, for leaving the door open for future legends to come about and bringing the atmosphere that takes over the night life.

A.M. SNiPER || FT ZAHRA PALMER NOWHERE

Release Date: 7th Dec 2014 || Label: 3Fifty7 Music

With the haunting tinkle of piano keys and the sweet ad-libs of Zahra Palmer before the strings and drums rise through the big band intro, A.M. SNiPER makes a statement with his penultimate release from the 'Audio Postcards' E.P (released 15th December) with brand new single 'Nowhere'.

Having smashed the Summer with the huge single 'Bus Pass' featuring Wiley, achieving playlists with stations including MTV Base & Kiss Fresh, as well as a number 2 in the Music Week Urban Club Chart, Top 40 European Airplay and a number 1 on the iTunes Chart in Cyprus and Greece; A.M SNiPER's talent and versatility shines on this futuristic, sci-fi inspired beat which sees the rapper approach 'Nowhere' with a more serious and soulful approach than we've seen from his entertaining hits of late.

As a recording artist, A.M. SNiPER's early success was with the UK chart-topping So Solid Crew, with whom he both produced for and featured as an artist. Other notable achievements to date include performances and collaborations with superstars from both sides of the Atlantic including Kanye West, 50 Cent, Memphis Bleek, Akon, Lethal Bizzle, Sway, JME, Ghetts.

With such an impressive CV already under his belt it is clear to see that A.M. SNiPER is going NOWHERE but up!
