

MEN'S HUB

MY VOICE

From the Desk of Editor

The men's HUB was an initiative to publish experience by common men, the objective will continue as main attractions of the magazine. Articles in hindi or english shared by various readers as well as professional authours will be published. The articles can cover any resent incident event or experience of the readers. Although we are morally bound to stay with our main abjective but to cover more areas we ourself limit to number or articles or number or pages. In any edition we limit ourself to cover 3 to 4 article in max 20 pages.

Keshav & Sharma

Keshav & Sharma is a cartoon series originally started by Daaman Welfare Society with the help of Volunteers. Mr. Diljeet & Mr. Anupam Dubey are main artists of the series and the scripts is written by volunteers. Keshav & Sharma are two main chracters representing out societie's biased against men. There are many more chracters with these two leading chracters. Every issue now onward will cover atleast 2 scripts and 1 graphic representation of Keshav & Sharma.

Articles or any other relivant content can be submitted by sending Email at

mhub.daman@gmail.com

Men's Panchtantra

The section is newly introduced section. In this section volunteers will try to rise men's issue they face in daily life with the help of animals.

Animals will be used as representatives. Every issue will cover atleast one of such story.

An Important Person

The section will cover a special person irrespective of male or female working in society for the betterment of Men or he can be just a normal men well aware of issues faced by men in daily life. The currest issue is covering Mr. Upendra Dhull

Special Coverage

This section is introductory section to tell about something special. The section will be in slides format and will cover important points in brief, we wont go into detail but we will try to cover the important facts about the topic and also we will try to speak about the source of the fact. This issue we are talking about Father & Kid relations.

Inspirational Story

An inspirationa story for the betterment of men which can motivate men to fight for their rights and justice.

Social Media

This section is to cover various activities by various NGO working for men on social media. This won't be a seprate section but will be intigral part of other topics.

Editorial

New Issue of Men's HUB is in your hand. If you did not noticed I would like to inform you that the domain name (website url) which we were using earlier is no longer in use, we already shifted to a new domain <http://menshub.info>.

Men's Hub was started with a solo motive to provide a platform for everyone, everyone include professional as well as non-professional writers. During last 4 years we have seen many changes, some of them for good reason. One of the major change was url shifting. Now we have shifted to new url with full streanth.

The men's HUB was an initiative to encourage a commen men to share his experience without thinking about his capabilities. With a large number of new writers coming forward to share their experince, we can say we are doing good as long as our target is common men.

Articles in Hindi or English shared by various readers as well as professional authors are published in present issue. These articles covered various aspacts of life including corona. Although we are morally bound to stay with our main objective but to cover more areas we our-self limit to number or articles or number or pages. In any edition we limit our-self to cover 3 to 4 article in max 20 pages.

This is second issue of the year 2020. Presently the world is facing a crisis created by coronaand we hope to come out of this crisis soon.

While we are in crisis it is time we utilize our free time and share our experirnce. The next issue is waiting for your experiences.

Almost everyone has decided few resolution for the year, because of corona it may be possible that some of resolution are difficult to achoeve, but we get more free time so we can do more and better. Reshape your resolutions.

Now is time to help neighbours by maintaining social distancing. The social distance factor is only one available to save us. Rest all solution waiting there to be invented

Just few days back when I was going home with friends one of the friend announced that you believe in ghosts (he was not asking but he was commenting). In reply i said you also believe. When he denied even he said even my daughter (9 or 10 year old) also do not believe. My reply was simple that you also believe in ghosts it is just you don't know yet, and I promised that I will prove it soon. If I proved or not that is another story, I will share it but not today.

Today I want to point out that my friend claimed that he do not believe in ghosts he also claimed that his daughter also do not believe. Now the daughter is just 9 or 10 year old. Do you believe that 9 or 10 year old kid may be having a mind with enough thoughts ? I don't thing if a kid below 10 year can have his own thoughts, but I believe he is just replica of parents or teachers thoughts. In other words I can say the kid do not believe in ghosts is not the right statement it should be like the kid is trained not to accept the existence of ghosts. Its not believe but it is just his mind is trained for denial.

Why this training is given to kids ? What if we teach the kids that ghost exist ? I believe there wont be any change both are training and parents or teacher are responsible for this training. Even they also don't know why ghost do not exist, they also get training from someone. If we study literature from old age there are lot of stories of ghosts and other unknown creatures and people get trained to believe in ghosts, but with time our training changed and people start believing that denial from the existence of ghost promote a person a modern personality. So they start denying from the existence of ghosts and next generation get training for non-existence of ghosts.

Why I am talking about ghosts ? I am not talking about ghosts but I am talking about how our mind is trained but not educated, and how we start believing something without applying own mind. It has nothing to do with educated mind, it is our training. It is our training which tell us that we are society of bad peoples, Try to be educated not just trained during the year 2020 and see the beauty of individuals. You will find yourself among a lot of good peoples. Yes you will find a lot of peoples with different habits, some of them you may like some other you may not like, but accept that they are different not bad. We are society of good people.

It is matter of trust, our society is training us for not to trust, they teach us the you are surrounded by bad peoples, they teach us that you are good men and other are bad people you need to stay away from them. The training is making us what we are today. Make a new year resolution that I will try to change myself.

$2 + 2 = 4$ it looks simple but do you know why $2 + 2 = 4$ why it is not 5 ?

Yes there is mathematical proof but most of us don't know even we never questioned our teacher. Our teacher told us $2 + 2 = 4$ and we memorized it. That is what happening with our society we are not educated but we are trained to believe that we are society of bad peoples. Come out of this training and educate yourself.

This New Year has meaning only if we change. If we are same the nothing matter if the year change or month.

Stay Safe, Stay Healthy

INDEX

1	Law News	1
2	Crime News	9
3	Welcome Corona	14
4	Men's Right Movement – Progress Report 017	18
5	Watching Dog – Kya Kar Rha Hai Chunnilal	21
6	Avoid The Contagion	25
7	Prevent The Spread of COVID-19 With Handy Tips	30
8	Why The New Corona Virus May Kill More Men The Women	34
9	M-Guru – Android App	41
10	Men's Panchtantra – Kaidi No 306 Returned	45
11	Special Coverage – Men vs Women	49
12	Gender Equality ?	61
13	Gender Equality – A Myth of Modern Era	70
14	M Guru - WiFi & LiFi	85
15	K & S – 082 : Gender Equality	88
16	Men's Panchtantra – Manager Sahib 01	94
17	Do You Know	100
18	Science	101
19	K & S : Rape	103

Law Center

Husband Cannot Expect Wife Living In London To Return To India & Fulfil Her Matrimonial Duties

11 March 2020, Gujrat HC

Case:

- The couple hails from Madhapar town near Bhuj in Gujarat
- They got married in the year 2009
- After living with the husband briefly, the woman left for London and gave birth to their daughter
- The daughter is currently studying at a school in the Kingsbury area of UK
- The husband too decided to accompany his wife after a while

-
- However, following an acrimonious relationship, he returned to India
 - In 2015, the wife filed a domestic violence case against her husband and in-laws
 - In 2016, the woman also filed for divorce in the family court of Bhuj, however, herself withdrew the same in 2017

Bail is rule and jail is exception

8 March 2020

A forgery case was registered against the accused in 2012. The police filed a closure report in 2013. But five years later, a Judicial Magistrate ordered further investigation. He was thereafter arrested in January 2019. His first bail application before the Madhya Pradesh High Court was dismissed. The second was dismissed as withdrawn.

Meanwhile, the police reinvestigated the case and submitted a second report stating that no offence has been committed by the appellant and he deserves to be discharged. After filing of this closure report, the accused filed yet another bail application before High Court, on the grounds that the second closure report has not been accepted by the Trial Court and that appellant has failed to point out whether material witnesses have been examined or not.

While allowing the appeal filed by the accused, the court said:

"The High Court ought to have kept in view that 'Bail is rule and jail is exception'. There is no gainsaying that bail should not be granted or rejected in a mechanical manner as it concerns the liberty of a person. In peculiar circumstances of this case where closure report was filed twice, the High Court ought not to have declined bail only because the trial court was yet to accept the said report. Further, the examination of witnesses would depend upon the fate of 2nd closure report. Considering the nature of allegations attributed to the appellant and the period he has already spent in custody, we are satisfied that he deserves to be released on bail forthwith."

Personal liberty is very precious fundamental right and it should be curtailed only when it becomes imperative; Bail allowed in POCSO

3 March 2020

The High Court allowed a bail application filed for grant of regular bail in connection for the offences punishable under Section 376(2)(i)(n) of the Penal Code and Section 5(1)/6 of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, 2012.

The FIR was lodged by the father of the victim on 26-09-2018 with the allegations that his daughter told him about the mental and physical harassment given by the applicant/accused since 2014. The victim had mentioned about applicant had taken few photographs for which he was blackmailing and harassing her along with abusing her on the phone and forcing him to make physical relations with him. The counsel for the applicant, Vinod Sharma submitted that applicant was an innocent person; no date or month of the physical relations had been mentioned in the FIR; according to the medical report dated 27-09-2018, no sexual intercourse had been committed with the victim in last few days; no said photographs were produced by the prosecution; no rape or sexual intercourse had ever been committed by the applicant on the prosecutrix; in medical report dated 27.-09-2018, no sign of rape had been found and there was no swelling, no injury, no bleeding; the applicant has no criminal history; he was in custody since 27-09-2018; prosecution had not filed so far any reliable certificate of date of birth of the victim.

The Court while allowing the bail relied on the judgment of Siddharam Satlingappa Mhetre v. State of Maharashtra, (2011) 1 SCC 694 where the Supreme Court had observed that the personal liberty was a very precious fundamental right and it should be curtailed only when it becomes imperative according to the facts and circumstances of the case and in the present case the attendance of the accused could be secured without having him to be put in custody.

SC Dissolves Two-Month Marriage After 16-Yrs | Invokes Irretrievable Breakdown As Ground For Divorce

19 Dec 2019, Sc of India

Indian marriages may be for seven lives, but the process of getting a contested divorce in India is no less than that! The system unfortunately is based on either parties proving the fault of the other and does not yet recognise irretrievable breakdown of marriage as a ground for divorce in India.

In its recent judgement, the Supreme Court dissolved a marriage by exercising its inherent powers under Article 142 of the Constitution, since a wife kept contesting divorce even after 16-years of separation from the man

Case:

- The appellant and the respondent got married in accordance with Hindu rites in the year 2000
- The parties co-lived for a period of only two months, after which the respondent-wife went to Canada, where she eventually obtained citizenship in 2002
- The appellant alleged that the respondent went to Canada without his consent
- The respondent returned to India only after she got her Canadian citizenship in 2002
- Even after coming back, there were continuous quarrels between the parties
- Owing to the same, Panchayat had intervened and further asked the parties to reside separately from their family

-
- However, this solution did not prove to be effective as well
 - Subsequently, the respondent left for Canada again
 - This prompted the appellant husband to file for a divorce Section 13(1) (ia) of the Hindu Marriage Act, 1955 on the ground of cruelty before the lower Court
 - The appellant contended that the loneliness and lack of co-habitation had caused him extreme physical and mental torture
 - The husband also stated that despite his reluctance to go to Canada, he had signed the immigration papers in order to save his marriage
 - However, the papers were never submitted
 - In fact, the appellant stated that the respondent herself had reached Canada on improper travel documents
 - The respondent, in her arguments, blamed the appellant for abandoning her and made various other allegations relating to dowry, physical assault and extra-marital affairs
 - She also claimed that she was forced to have an abortion when she was taken to a doctor once

-
- The appellant denied this allegation and stated that the respondent was never pregnant
 - After hearing the arguments from both sides, the Additional District Judge granted a decree of divorce against which an appeal was filed before the High Court of Punjab
 - Aggrieved, the appellant-husband filed an appeal before the Supreme Court
 - The respondent-wife, in the meanwhile, expressed consent to continue to staying with the appellant

The Bench of Justices Sanjay Kishan Kaul and KM Joseph passed a judgment after taking note that the Supreme Court has earlier invoked its inherent powers under Article 142 to grant a divorce on the ground of irretrievable breakdown of marriage

The top Court took note that this was done”not only in cases where parties ultimately, before this Court, have agreed to do so but even otherwise”

Thank You for previewing this eBook

You can read the full version of this eBook in different formats:

- HTML (Free /Available to everyone)
- PDF / TXT (Available to V.I.P. members. Free Standard members can access up to 5 PDF/TXT eBooks per month each month)
- Epub & Mobipocket (Exclusive to V.I.P. members)

To download this full book, simply select the format you desire below

