Part 1

Setting Up Your “Sales Funnel”

Step 1 – Setting up a squeeze page

This is the most important step in your plan for $1,000 and careful consideration should be gone into planning this part of it. You are going to use the squeeze page to collect the names and email addresses of visitors through to your website or blog.

You will do this by offering a valuable free report, e-book or software that when people sign up they will be able to receive completely free of charge.

Then once you have got the persons name and email address they will be forwarded to your one time offer (OTO). This is then when the cash starts to roll in to your bank account.

The squeeze page is all about drawing the attention of the reader and giving them a call of action so that they will download your free gift. Then adding them to your free Ezine to make regular money from them. Obviously the more subscribers you have on the list the better and this is how your income will steadily grow over a period of time.

Make money online right now: What is the best product to offer to visitors?

There are literally thousands of different things that you could offer to your visitors in order to join your list. However there is such a thing as some items been better than others.

For Example: If you offered a report the one with the catchy title would be the one that would get you the BEST sign up rate. If your free report was about article writing “top article writing tips” just doesn’t do anything for most people and sounds rather boring. However if you offered a report called “break into article writing” it has a certain ring to it and gets people to really think about what they would want to achieve as an article writer.

It is also important that you do it about a subject that relates to what you would like to sell to your list at a later date. So if you are concentrating on the food niche there is no point in offering them free internet marketing tips.

However you should also keep it as varied as you can so that it suits most internet marketers instead of just hitting one of the many make money online niches. If you are into social media this is the perfect place to be everyone wants to know how to generate free traffic through Twitter, FaceBook and MySpace. Then when they are on your subscriber list you can offer them a bit of everything.

Here is what I recommend that you offer to your new subscribers:

- *Anything that isn't freely available on the internet
- *Is unique to existing information
- *Information lists and created into a report

Any of the above will give you great response rates and will give you the edge on your competition.

This is why they can work for you.....

Make money online right now: Anything that isn't freely available on the internet

If you went for something that everyone is promoting you have lost the edge as you are no different to any other Tom, Dick or Harry. This is my favourite way for generating products have a good look around the internet and find something that is selling for a premium and re-create it for free.

This is an absolute goldmine as if 1000 people are paying right now for a report in a specialist field come along and create a free version. Make sure you don't copy someone else's work just their idea. If article writing is hot then create a report about how to get articles ranking high on Google. It doesn't even have to be as long as the paid version just good enough to use to build your list on the internet.

Is unique to existing information

If a new trend arrives on the internet make money from it as soon as you can. Everyone right now is selling e-books about article writing but what else could you make instead that would pull in the subscribers?

I find that anything about Blogging with a unique edge can give you the sales time and time again.

When a new trend arrives be the first to create a report about it. Imagine if you had been the very first to write a report about Twitter or the first to create a useful twitter tool you are literally laughing with the traffic that it can generate for you.

You just have to remember that your product must be original and offer something that your target market wants right now.

Everybody wants to know about something and good quality lists are very hard to come by and you should tap into this if you can't find any other relevant material to use.

There is literally millions of ways that you can create a list as long as it is up to date and suits the audience you have a winner. Create a list of the best places to get free twitter tools if you are aiming at the twitter market.

However for a big buzz in the make money online niche go for something simple as it will really pay off. You could create a list about practically anything and research it for a few short hours on some online forums.

It could include:

- *Internet marketers free software list
- *Free Classifieds
- *Free Article Directories
- *Free Press Release Sites
- *Traffic Exchange Sites
- *Internet Marketing Adswaps
- *and so on

Internet marketers are always looking for this kind of free information and often spend hours looking for it and this is your chance to take advantage of this niche in order to build your list.

It doesn't even need to be really long either you could do just ten sites and improve it by writing a review for each of them so that people know what they are getting involved in. This will then give them the ultimate opportunity to use the list and many will take it a step further and hand out your free PDF to others making your free directory viral.

If you can't write your own report or simply don't want to you can always use article directories to get your name out there. For example if you wanted to do "the top ten AdSense tips" you could copy and paste the top ten articles about AdSense from ezinearticles.com then give this away.

The beauty of these article directories is that you are allowed to freely copy the content as long as you include the resource box at the end of the article.

People also love top ten tips because they believe they are short enough to read in one sitting without it going on forever. I recommend that you get busy using your imagination to come up with a free product to offer to your future mailing list.

Now its time to create your squeeze page I personally use FrontPage or NVU even though there are many other programs available to do it with.

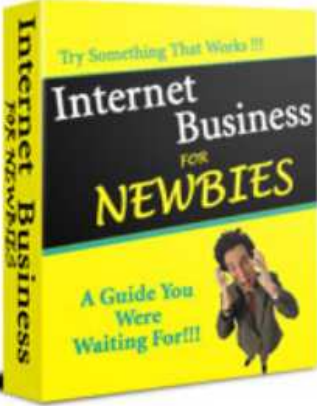

Here is a free tutorial to show you how to set up your squeeze page if you are not familiar with these programs:
