Written by: Munir Moosa Sewani

INTRODUCTION

Hello Children,

Since from Class 10th, I was thinking to write, compile or edit some Moral Stories for my Beloved Students. Despite of writing many articles on Social and Educational context, Quotations and one Book cum Magazine; I forgot to write, what I once thought for Children.

So here it's, the real time Moral Stories for Children of ages 4-12.

The collection of stories has been written, edited and compiled very carefully, keeping in view the taste of enjoyment and coziness. Every possible step has been taken to use precise language. All the Morals have been beautifully written by me.

You'll find all new stories which you have never heard before.

You can take these stories as your bed time favorites, to improve your reading practice/vocabulary, to enjoy different activities present in this book or it would help you to learn and explore the realities of your life. It will teach you Moral Lessons, while enjoying it.

The first published book ever written, compiled edited by MUNIR for you all children.

Few stories and poems, specially written by me for you all are also inclusive in this fun filled book. Isn't it amazing!

This is the first series of Moral Stories and I wish that you all would appreciate it.

THE TRAVELERS AND THE PLANE TREE

Two men were walking along one summer day. Soon it became too hot to go any further and, seeing a large plane tree nearby, they threw themselves on the ground to rest in its shade.

“Wow! Isn’t it a beautiful place?”, One man said to other,
“Yes, it’s”

The other replied .Gazing up into the branches one man said to the other:

“What a useless tree this is. It does not have fruit like apple or nuts that we can eat and we cannot even use its wood for anything.”

“Don’t be so ungrateful,” the tree replied.

“I am being extremely useful to you at this very moment, giving you a shade and protecting you from the hot sun and you call me a good-for-nothing!”

Don’t be so ungrateful to God.

The man realized that:

“All of God’s creations have a good purpose.”

MORAL:

Islam teaches us that we should never put down Allah’s blessings.

LEARN FROM MISTAKES

Do you know who Thomas Edison was? He was a scientist who invented bulb which gives us light. Do you want to learn Moral from his real life story? If yes, then read it out!

Thomas Edison tried two thousand different materials in search of a thread for the light bulb. When none worked satisfactorily, his assistant complained,
“All our work is in vain. We have learned nothing.”
Edison replied very confidently,
“Oh, we have come a long way and we have learned a lot. We now know that there are two thousand elements which we cannot use to make a good light bulb.”

Moral:

Always learn from the mistake. Don't think that all the mistakes you did are wrong. Mistakes are the part of learning.

DON'T CHANGE THE WORLD

One day long ago, some sailors set out to sea in their sailing ship. One of them brought his pet monkey along for the long journey.

When they were far out at sea, a terrible storm inverted their ship.

Everyone fell into the sea, and the monkey was sure that he would sink.

Suddenly a dolphin appeared and picked him up.

They soon reached the Island and the monkey came down from the dolphin's back. The dolphin asked the monkey,

“Do you know this place?”

The monkey replied,

“Yes, I do. In fact, the king of the Island is my best friend. Do you know that I am actually a prince?”

Knowing that no one lived on the Island, the dolphin said, “Well, well, so you are a prince! Now you can be a king!”

The monkey asked, “How can I be a king?”

As the dolphin started swimming away, he answered, “That is easy. As you are the only creature on this Island, you will naturally be the king!”

ACTIVITY TIME

Hello Children! You All Would Think, That Your Munir Sir Has Not Made This Book Entertaining; So Don't You All Worry! This Bird Needs Your Help. She Has Lost Her House, So Help Her Out.

A selfish fox once invited a stork to dinner at his home in a hollow tree. That evening, the stork flew to the fox's home and knocked on the door with her long beak. The fox opened the door and said,

“Please come in and share my food.”

The stork was invited to sit down at the table. She was very hungry and the food smelled delicious!

The fox served soup in shallow bowls and he licked up all his soup very quickly. However, the stork could not have any of it as the bowl was too shallow for her long beak. The poor stork just smiled politely and stayed hungry.

The selfish fox asked, “Stork, why haven’t you taken your soup? Don’t you like it?”

The stork replied, “It was very kind of you to invite me for dinner.

Tomorrow evening, please join me for dinner at my home.”

The next day, when the fox arrived at the stork’s home, he saw that they were also having soup for dinner. This time the soup was served in tall jugs. The stork drank the soup easily but the fox could not reach inside the tall jug. This time it was his turn to go hungry.

Moral:

A selfish act can backfire on you.

THE BOY WHO CRIED 'WOLF'

Bachao! Bachao! Have you ever shouted like this to make others fool? If no, then you all are good children, but If you have done that so far, then never do this again. Let's read it out that what this story wants to tell you about the result of being a liar.

Once there was a shepherd boy who had to look after a flock of sheep. One day, he felt bored and decided to play a trick on the villagers.

He shouted, "Help! Wolf! Wolf!"

The villagers heard his cries and rushed out of the village to help the shepherd boy. When they reached him, they asked,

"Where is the wolf?"

The shepherd boy laughed loudly, "Ha, Ha, Ha! I fooled all of you. I was only playing a trick on you."

A few days later, the shepherd boy played this trick again.

Again he cried, "Help! Help! Wolf! Wolf!" Again, the villagers rushed up the hill to help him and again they found that boy had tricked them. They were very angry with him for being so naughty.

Then, some time later, a wolf went into the field. The wolf attacked one sheep, and then another and another.

The shepherd boy ran towards the village shouting, "Help! Help! Wolf! Help! Somebody!"

The villagers heard his cries but they laughed because they thought it was another trick. The boy ran to the nearest villager and said, "A wolf is attacking the sheep. I lied before, but this time it is true!"

Finally, the villagers went to look. It was true. They could see the wolf running away and many dead sheep lying on the grass.

So sad, isn't it. So next time, don't lie.
