Foreword

Firstly I would like to give thanks and prayers to people who supports me along my journey, my family and friends without them I wouldn't be able to write so many content and got so many readers in such a short period of time.

To give an example of this I shoot there one of my friend's quotes about perfectness of woman:

"If she's so automatic, she must handle my distortions!"

– Dominik Vrbecký

Well, you should ask why? Always it is best thing you can do!

Why should I do that, why should I go there, does it can take me to somewhat higher level of relationship?

Winning women's heart is not an easy job and if you think that you are master in that art then, you are living in pure fantasy because there are lots of things which you need to know about women, in order to make them happy and get closer. Dating is easy but making some woman believe that you are really into her is very difficult.

There are so many mistakes which every one of us makes during attracting women. In this E-Book, I will tell you some very basic tips and suggestions which you can implement in your dating relationships or even with your soul mates and you will certainly make your life lot easier and more effective and affectionate this cost me a lot of Mind hanging, body banging and B.S. hearing so now please sit and read.

Relationships are made with pure true and without any impurity of lie or any false feeling. If you are sincere with someone then, you will always be able to make her believe that you care for her but if you are trying to play games and are just looking for some good time pass and not ant serious relationship then, the opposite person is also smart enough to know your intentions.

There are different approaches which you have to adopt for building a short term relationship and long term relationship and in this EBook; I will tell you both of those approaches in details.

I'm 100 percent sure that after reading this EBook, you will be able to understand not only the importance of relationships but you will be able to build some really good relationships without any problem.

First of all, you need to be sure about your approach and prepare your mind that who is that special one whom you want in your life and then converge all of your efforts to that one person. Everything lose will be demonstrated throughout the EBook and you need to follow it carefully. Enjoy reading and pay attention to these words.

What You Need

If you are looking for your soul mate, you must know that there are certain things which you need to know and certain strategies which you should execute, in order to make your relationship stronger and even if you are starting out your new relationship then, you can strengthen it. You must know that such relationships need commitment and responsibility to be kept alive and strong. You should never lose your interest in your partner and that is the key. In other important things following guidelines can help you.

Find Your True Match

First of all, you should be sure that your soul mate is the only person in the world with whom you can live your life. If you are confused about your choice then, things will start to get troubled. Even if you have some differences but exaggerating them and making them an issue is not the right way. You should always pay attention to your partner and make them believe that he or she is special for you. Send an email, text message or do a phone call when you are at work and tell them that they are important enough that you can get time from your work to take care of them.

Proper Planning Of Your Time

Planning of your time is important and in fact you can say that planning of time is most important thing in building good and long term soul mate relationships. There is an old saying that if you fail to plan then, you are planning to fail. This is very true in terms of soul mate relationships. In today's busy world, this often happens that people with busy schedule and heavy loaded jobs cannot get time for their soul mate and the more you ignore each other, more distance will occur and no matter how much love and affection there was but this less time spending will create misunderstandings which can lead to total destruction. In order to keep your relationship healthy, you should find time for your partner, no matter how busy you are at your work but try and keep your personal life and career life separate. Never allow your progress at work to disturb your progress in your relationship.

Be possessive about your relationship

This is very important and you can say that it is for the plant of your relationship that you need to have some positive jealousy and never ignore your relationship. Do not compromise the integrity of your soul mate relationship. Make sure that you are fulfilling the emotional needs of your partner carefully. Soul mate relationships are forever and you can always make them flourish with very small but effective deeds.

Never forget special occasions

This is another important aspect of any relationship which makes the other person realize that you always care for them and you never forget them. Special occasions like birthday, marriage anniversary, kid's birthday, Valentine's Day and other similar occasions should always be remembered and wished to each other. These are the occasions which make the other person realize that you always have their thoughts and you are never forgetting them. You can give them some kind of gift or just a flower will also do the work. This is not necessary that you always have to give some expensive gift instead if your love and affection is true then, simpler things will also do the same job which an expensive gift can.

Add an Element of Surprise to Your Relationship

If your partner like surprises and you have some spare time then, never waste such a moment and try to surprise your partner with his or her favorite thing. Send them a bunch of flowers in office, get an extended lunch break from their boss and take them to a romantic lunch. The options are endless and you just have to think about the favorite place or favorite thing of your partner. You just need to break that chain of routine which keeps on boring your relationship and add some colors in it through adding some kind of surprise.

Hang Out With Your Friends

If you both have a very tight work routine and you seldom find time for each other then, try to hang out with your friends. You can throw a small party at weekends and invite your friends. This will be great fun to have and will also make your life more colorful and cheerful. Through these small gatherings, you both will get to know each other's friends and this will also tell you more about the other person's taste and habits. You will be able to know more about each other from friends because they will talk of old times which you may have missed.

Read Your Partner

This is very crucial for any relationship's help that you need to be very humble in your approach and try to learn each and everything about your partner. His likes, dislikes, strengths, weaknesses and in short, each and everything which any human being can possess, you need to learn that about your partner. This learning will help you in making him or her happier than ever before because you will act as he or she pleases and this will always keep them closer to you.

These are all the important things which you need to take care for building a strong, reliable and long lasting soul mate relationship. If you have missed any of the above then, make sure that you can compensate it properly and heal your relationship.

There are several different types of scenarios that require equally different conversation topics. There are conversations that require the introduction style to start a connection and then there are conversations that require the individual to ask questions in order to get to know the other party better.

Chapter 2:

Dating Conversations

Great Ways To Start A Conversation

Then there are also conversation starters that would start with a “what if” question to get the other party committed to commenting, and therefore providing the ideal topic for further discussion. These styles often provide a adequate amount of information that allow all involved to carry the conversation for a longer period of time.

Other conversation starters may include icebreakers such as talking about a pet, a hobby, an interesting venture, a new experience, travel, kids, retirement, politics and a whole array to other interesting topics. Some conversation starter in a more business like environment would have to be designed around more business related topics. Having the relevant information within the knowledge base will allow the individual to smoothly and effectively contribute to the ongoing conversation.

Being able to contribute in a seemingly knowledgeable way in an ongoing conversation without appearing authoritative or overbearing will definitely ensure those around will feel comfortable and positively drawn to the individual. Having a friendly manner and taking care not to dominate but to try and include everyone in the conversation will certainly show the individual in a good light.

EP 2:

First Date Conversations That Get You Second Dates

---

First date conversations are very important as most impressions are formed at this time. These impressions play a major role in dictating the possibility of a follow up date. Therefore in the quest to make sure a second date is definite instead of probable, the individual would have to be a good conversationalist or at the very least, be able to come up with interesting topics to discuss.

Getting Another Date

There are some key elements to note when trying to design good conversation for the first date and these would include practicing, having great questions and knowing the end goal intended for the date. With all this clearly formatted in the individual's mind, getting the date of to a good start would not be impossible.

The practice section would include the individual having to come up with great questions that are suitable for the occasion or date and also have interesting corresponding answers for the questions put forth in order to keep the conversation going back and forth. Practicing with friends and family will help the individual get better at ensuring the smoothness and flow of the conversation is kept throughout the topic being discussed.

Then the next stage to perfect would require the clear understating of the goal of the date, which is to secure a second date easily. In order to so, the individual would have to create an enjoyable experience for the other party that would help make the decision for a second date an easy one. Ensuring a good time is the priority as people who enjoy themselves on first dates are more likely to be interested in a second one. There is also the issue of appearing confident when carrying out the conversation. The confidence levels portrayed will give the other party a chance to be impressed with the individual and thus be keen to go on a second date.

EP 3:

Choosing The Best Date Conversation Topics

---

There are a lot of guidelines available for people to explore when trying to come up with suitable conversations when on dates. These conversations will have a very important part to play, as the success of the date would very much depends on both parties interacting well and enjoying themselves.

The following are some of the guidelines that should be considered if the individual is keen on ensuring the date is a success and both parties enjoyed themselves:
