

THE Land Ruled By the Darkness

WRITTEN BY S RAGHU RAM

Preface

“History has seen both blood and peace.
Sometimes wars were fought when peace is needed and kept silent when war is needed.
In my view we can't achieve everything alone with war and alone with the peace”

Human beings have developed from one of animal of nature to commander of other such animals like him. He is extinguishing them for his own happiness. He is digging mother earth for things for which he started wars, killing his own kind. In 3032 he had developed his intelligence to create dangerous weapons, more power full than atom bombs which can destroy any planet in a few seconds after launch. Now humanity is in final stage of extinction. Like other animals which extinguished for his happiness now it is his turn for the extinction, but this time he is going to kill all the nature with him. Sacrificing himself to occupy the earth and things present in its core. This is the future lying ahead of us. I was one of the persons who want war, kill innocent people and nature to establish my greatness. We had no belief on god we are ruthless. “My name is Charlie and I’m the god for future generations”. This was my belief.

It all started on “16 July 3032”. I was traveling in an advanced car with my body guards protecting me. Then we were attacked by a group of people who tried to kill me. All my bodyguards died now it is my turn.

Throughout the history of mankind there are wars, Where Thousands of men died for greed of a few. There are more things which are even harsher than Death and I am facing one such do to Evil King Harshavardana. He never thought for good of people, always what he wanted is Gold for which he slaughtered many men whose life is more worthier than it. I can't Blame him because long time ago I was just like him killed many persons for Gold, pleasure and God Punished me By means of Harshavardana in a Reasonable way. I also have faith that even he cannot escape god's punishment. I don't know for how many days I have been in this prison. More consumed by darkness, I haven't seen light for years. The only light in my life is hope, hope to see my son. I think he will be young by this time, I had seen him long time ago when he is 10. I may be the only one who has faced this punishment for this long time. When I met her, his mother, I was in a battle I slaughtered her whole family and took her for pleasure but soon I fell in love with her and married her but she never loved me after his birth she died. I lifted a sword when I was 7. I took it to protect myself from thieves who killed my parents. I killed one of them. They would have killed me but they didn't, if they did many lives would have been saved by them. They took me with them trained to rob people but unfortunately one day, I avenged my parent's death. I joined in kings army, fought many battles for him. Killed several number of innocent people just for him. I used to enjoy killing and never felt their sorrow. After her death I had determined not to take that sword again to lead remaining part of my life in peace. Things will not happen as we wish after a year of peaceful life the king died and his son Harshavardana is the new king he wants me to lead his army as well but I refused and now I am in this situation, in darkness for years

I closed eyes when they surrendered me. I see not them but it is my death that has surrendered me. I didn't died then I opened my eyes but I see nothing it is same in both the cases in which I open and close my eyes for a moment I thought I was blind but soon I realised that I was blind due to lack of light. It is usual these days artificial satellites we created blocks sunlight for a while. I wanted to take advantage of this as I was trained to fight even in darkness I rose and hit the position in which I assumed person was standing but there is a wall built by rocks and I was able to break it because of my evolution. Then two guards came towards me with spears in their hands however with my techniques I was able to manage them took the spear from the guard when he was about to kill me and used it to kill the other guard then alarm was rang. I assumed
