1-

A Mystique Ride I could smell the bacon and eggs and sausage making its way up to my bedroom. My mother was making it from scratch. With from whatever that she was cooking. In fact it was breakfast for me and my brother pushing his way through. I said, "Cody, How do you get your way every time to breakfast!!!!!!!!!!!!!!" I was so mad I had stomped my way to my mothers car. For when I had got to the school I had bacon and eggs and sausage with toast. I had always appreciated my mothers cooking. I gave my mother a kiss on the cheek and

( As I was Stammering my way up the stairs and into school headquarters heading towards my locker, after a long summer vacation.) Along with the announcement being made to grab my schedule for this fall semester.

My friends all greeted me with being excited that we were all back for another school year.

“Hi Mandy,” said June. June is my best friend ever since kindergarten. We did our secret handshake. Then we said, “together forever.” For nobody was staring at us.

I waved back to her and two other friends of mine ran up behind her. My other two friends were all telling me about what they had done over the summer. Bottom line is that.

We all had surprised each other and were able to tell each other what we did over the summer.

Then the breeze made its way along with leaves over to a young man. I could smell that nice mens shampoo that he had on. Aww my man crush!!!!!!!!!!!!A breeze just went over my shoulder and Head scooped up from behind me. He wasn't even on the football team or had to be on the team!!!!!!!!!!

**sigh* he was dreamy..... I mean really he was that dreamy. With his brushed red* hair. It was short and layered, muscular and toned out. I wonder what school that he had transferred from. Just wondering with was all that I was thinking about.

I was in a dream with butterflies of hearts flying around us. I asked my friends who his name was and they said that his name was known to be David....

First of all, nobody can get a guy like him, ( David. June nudged me and said, "Pay attention!!!!!!!!!!!!!!") For David had come from another school. Transferred over from the other school. David rarely had talked to anybody at his school. He played sports on the streets. Never on a school team. David learned from the streets. He grew up from the streets. Nobody could mess around with David except for his friend Peter.

June was pointing over towards to where the water fountain, where the jocks and the spirit

team were.

I couldn't help but to think that now that I have a crush on David. Whom I now like.

Comparing him to those jocks. It'd just be like, huh? Well, if anything of the sort it's just not him. Come'on were sophomores and he's a junior.

My friends and I all went to where our class schedules would be. Then there is that spell again. I couldn't believe it. It was my crush well at least he was. I noticed that if I went over where he was with him taking his schedule. That we had bumped into each other. "Oh, I'm sorry for bumping into you like that, I must go on and head to class. ( I thought)- well, since he won't just say what he was sorry for. I could have just easily heard him as June nudged me just as in saying," Come'On Mandy, David already had said that he was sorry kind of look."

I could not help but to think that everything was going to be ok this school year at

Clover Heights. How can I possibly get to think that for when I can get the chance to apologize for that I honestly believe that David should apologize to me. Oh well, he won't, I just know it. I just had to sit in this situation like a "sitting bull." Even though I probably wasn't going to get my way.

As first hr. If class had already rang, it was a rainy day and already Me and June had to get through to lunch. June and I raced each other to the snack bar line and we couldn't win. However, we did reach up to the other girls. The chess team had already beat us to the front of the line.

"Haha you losers are pitiful, to have not beat us to the front of the line on the first day of school," Said

Then, all of a sudden I had smelled that nice body spray that he had on him. Now I don't know where David bought that from. It had smelled nice on him.

The girls never thought that he was really attractive. I meant his own sister was like his little pom pom girl.... One day somebody was telling me over the summer that he had got really upset because she was creeping him out. Then he just all went into a glare and just started to act really weird.

“THE BELL RINGS!!!!!!!!!!!!!!” Everybody heard the bell and it was already time to head to class. Plus to think that he would be in any of my classes. Along to be sitting next to me.

I was sweating up a storm just thinking about him. By then the second bell rang.

Couldn't help but to think that. June would scare me. Trying to act or even thing that it's Halloween. To be honest, she quite fractly did scare me. Plus I most certainly know that it's going to be a homecoming season assembly. The choir had to be ready to sing "The National Anthem."

I couldn't help to think and to start when everything would be ready. With a lot of preparations going on for the big assembly.

As the big assembly was getting everybody riled up. All the sports teams had their team gatherings and the bonfire.

Gasping as I couldn't take it in anymore. The bonfire was pretty wild. Our rivalry we are going to play in the homecoming game is going to be playing Cavalry Heights.

David and his best friend Peter weren't that very skeptical of the assembly. The game in which they were worried about the game. Their dads were down hard on them two. Not they're mom's.

Chapter 2- "The Party"

We all had to get going to the lunchroom, as we were all hungry. I noticed that I was stopped with poms poms right in front of my face!!!! ( As I do not like when somebody or someone steps right into my way.)

"Hi, would you like to come to David's party, everyone is invited, asked one of the cheerleaders?" I just shrugged my shoulders and gave her a glare. Knowing that

David my secret crush tried out for the football team.

My response was, "I don't know if I can go, I have homework to do", (I felt a nudge running up against my arm to my shoulders. It was June letting me know that I was being ridiculously rude to the girl handing me the flyer.)

You know, to be honest, I quite was being rude. I felt bad for my emotions towards the pom pom girl that was handing me the flyer.

It was already 2 months into the school year and homecoming was just around the corner....

The marching band was marching around the school along with the pom pom and cheer squad preparing everybody for the big game.... The cheer squad going rah!

Rah! Rah! And they did theyre cheer for the football team.

Chapter 3

A Fallen Star

By the second week of fall I was already getting annoyed by spray string being sprayed. By just the look on David's face. You could tell that something was definitely wrong.

By the night of the football game. Me and my friends had arrived and something of the wind came strange upon us and along with everybody else....

I had seen a shooting star. Not like any other star... This one was bright and had a crackling sound to it.

I decided that I had changed my mind about going to the party.... So I went and I saw David and two guys standing along with him. The house belonged to David's parents.

*I went to grab a drink of punch and chips and soda. I turned around and then splashed; the punch was splashed onto me by accident. David was behind me and he tried to apologize but that didn't help.
Not to my expense.*

“Ugh,” I just wanted to go home. Being driven home. I spotted something in front of my house. It was quite shiny. Starting to head my way over to where the shining was occurring. I leaned over the bushes and it was a nice beautiful ring. With notice I realized that I was feeling a quite bit dizzy.

Everything around me started to spin.....

Chapter 4

Land of Azklaban

Through the daring forests of the night, in the land of Azklaban.

The daring knights of the King Louis IV had an army prepared for even his own son. The bandit of the night for when he returns. To the kingdom he is dangerous. Whom, he has killed

many innocent people for no reason.

A beautiful land with elvish ways and king Louis is good friends with them. There, everybody waits for the return of the bandit, his own son. It had all started from when Louise dear

*the wife had passed away after his son was born.
From*

what he was born with was with this mark. On his birthday his father would take him out hunting for deer or elk.

His son was special and that he was very fast with his bow and arrow.
