

CATERPILLARS!

WRITTEN BY BEL RICHARDSON

Here are caterpillars hanging off twigs. These caterpillars are looking for good leaves to eat. Look at the patterns on their backs.

This yellow and black caterpillar has stripes. It has found a yummy meal. It munches and crunches on the green leaf. A caterpillar must eat a lot.

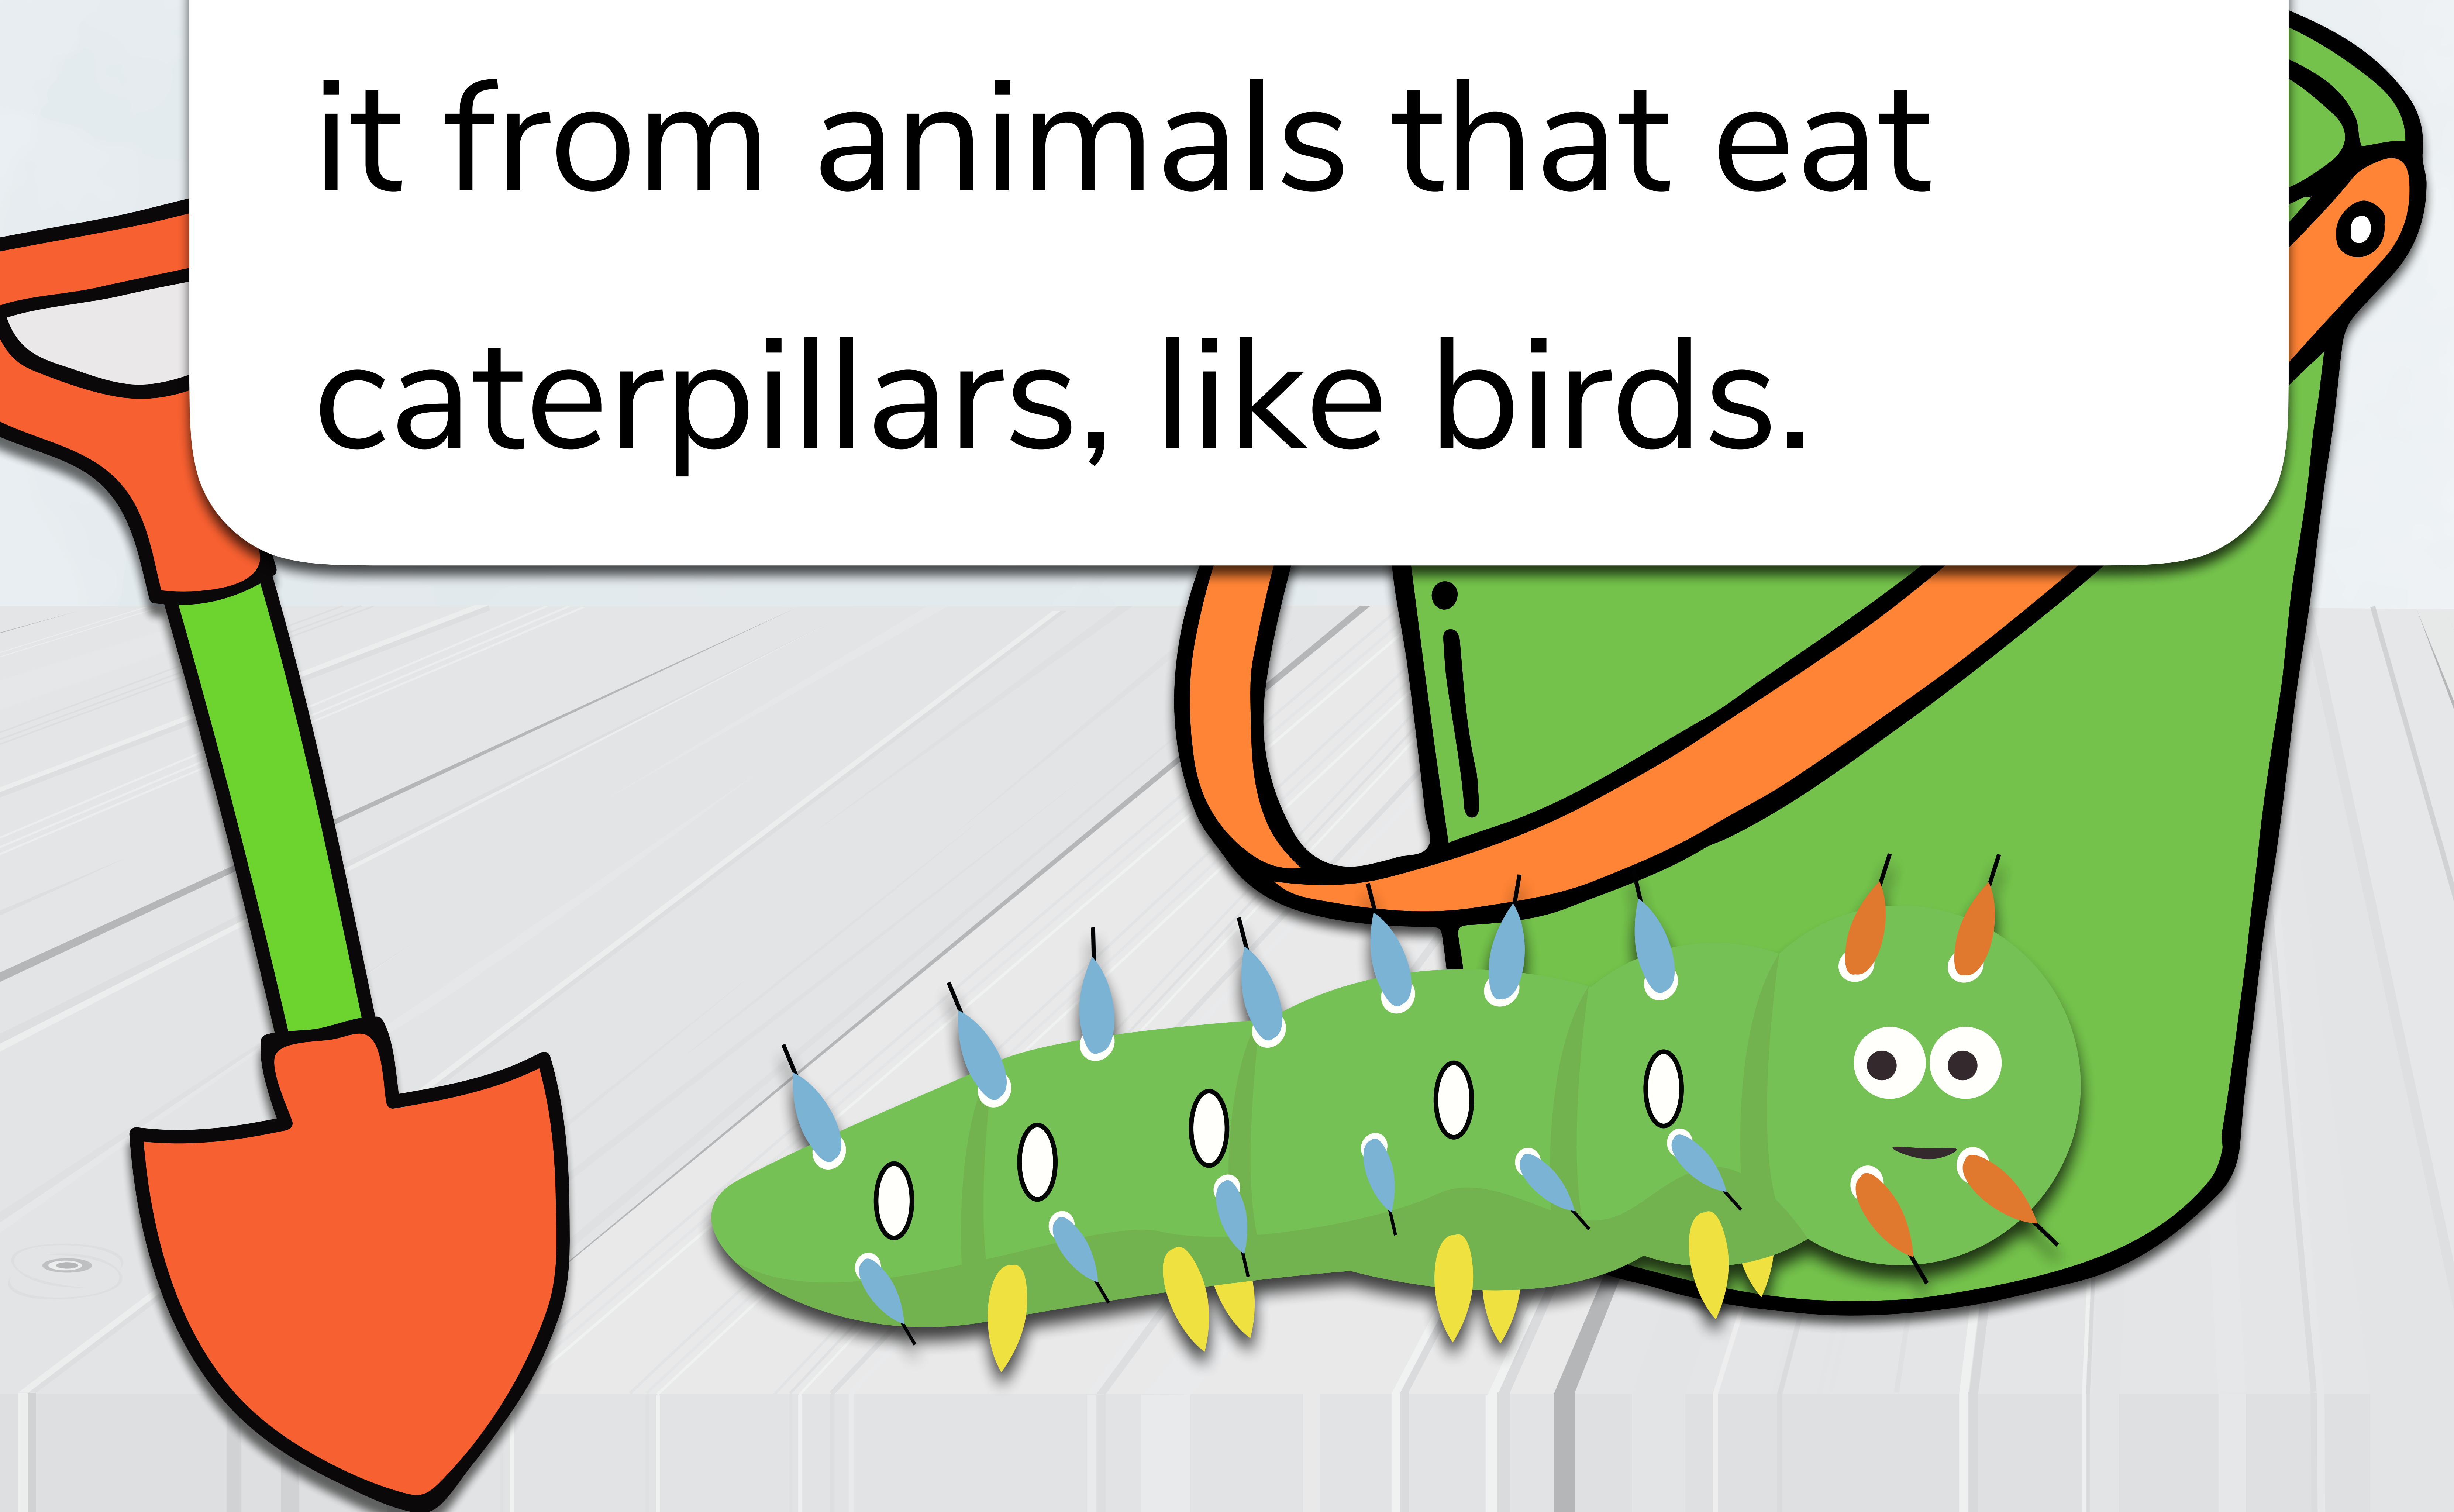

Here is an odd fellow. This caterpillar is all lumpy and bumpy. It is a trick to hide it from animals that eat caterpillars, like birds.

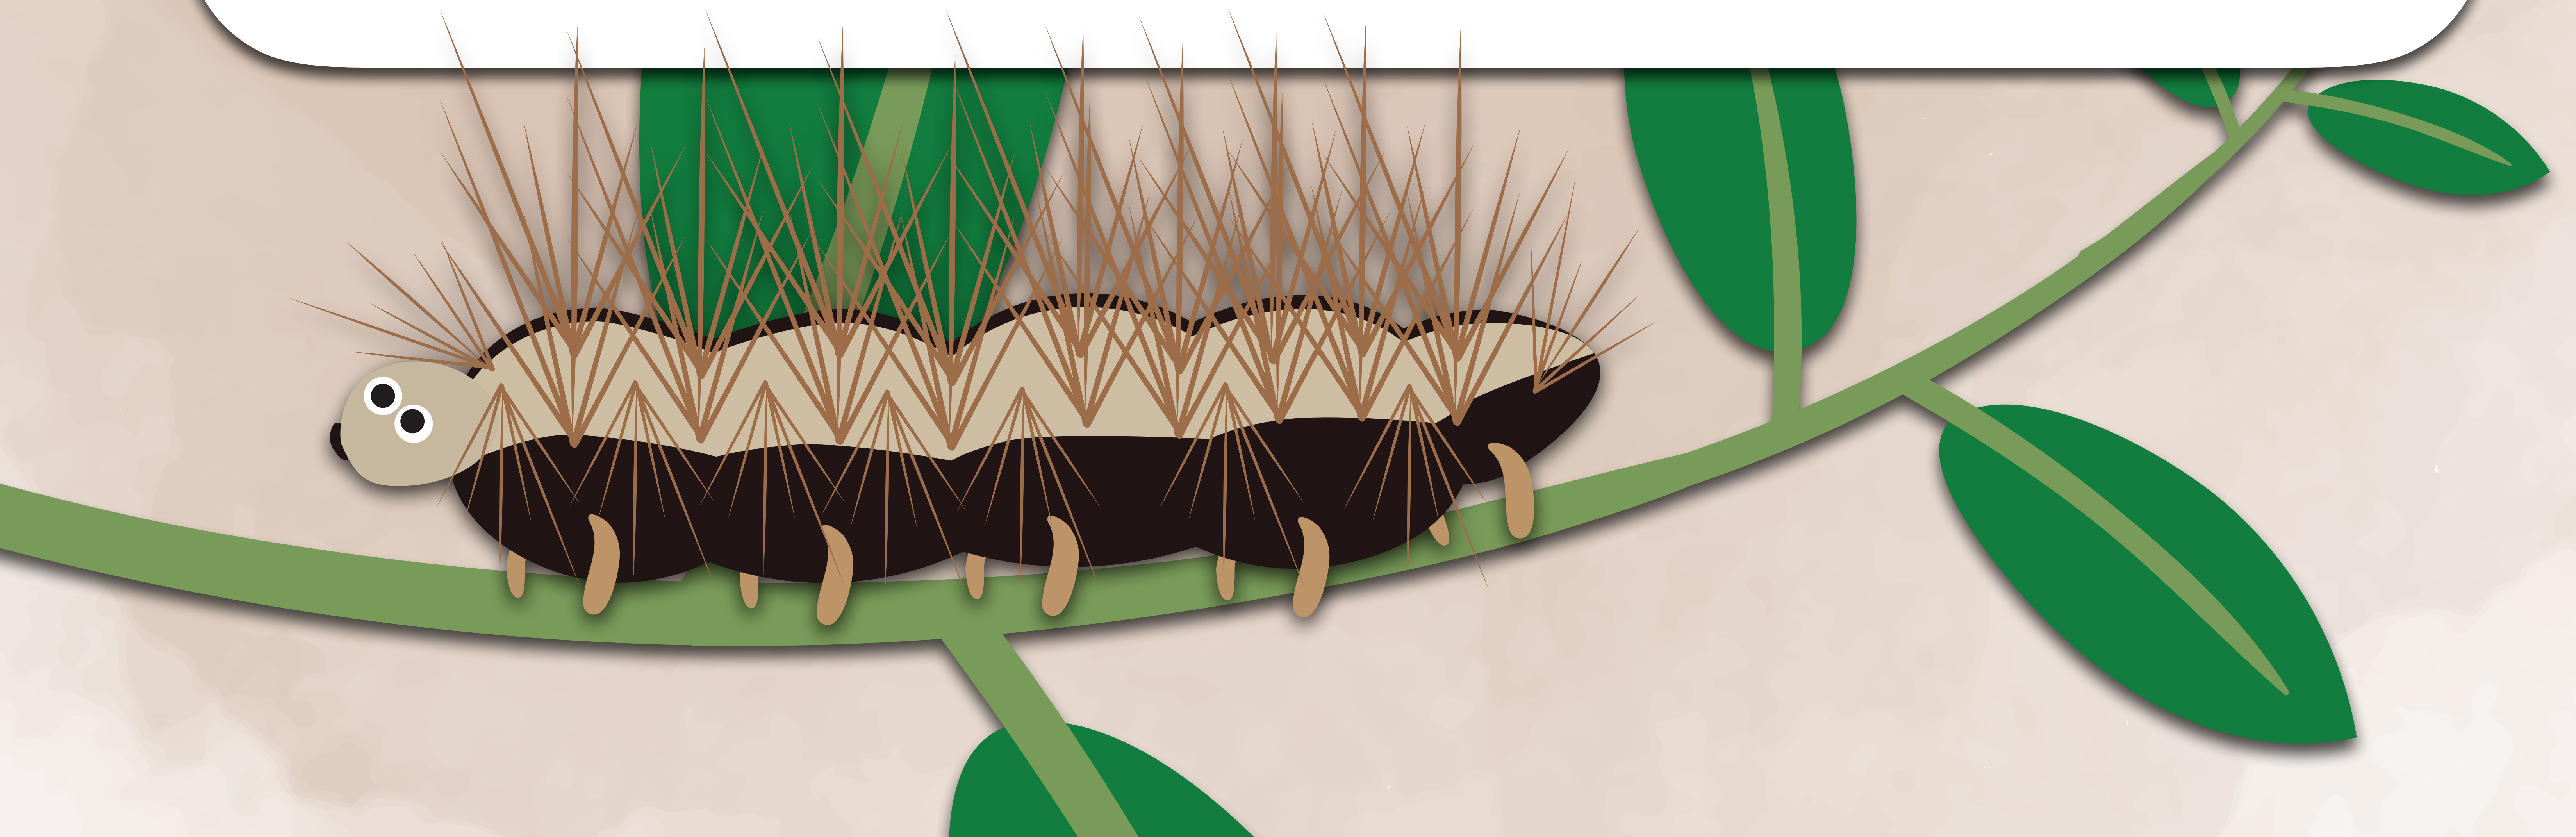

Take a look at the spines and spikes on this caterpillar. If you touch it, it might make you itch. It is best not to touch caterpillars. You can just look at how cool they are.

This brown caterpillar looks like the rock that it is on. It can hide on the moss and the slime.

Look at the stripe along this caterpillar. It has dots and spots all over it. These patterns make it difficult to see this caterpillar. It can hide on plants.

There is a very little caterpillar! It is inching along the rocks. It is bright yellow, like a banana. Birds might think that they will get sick if they eat it.

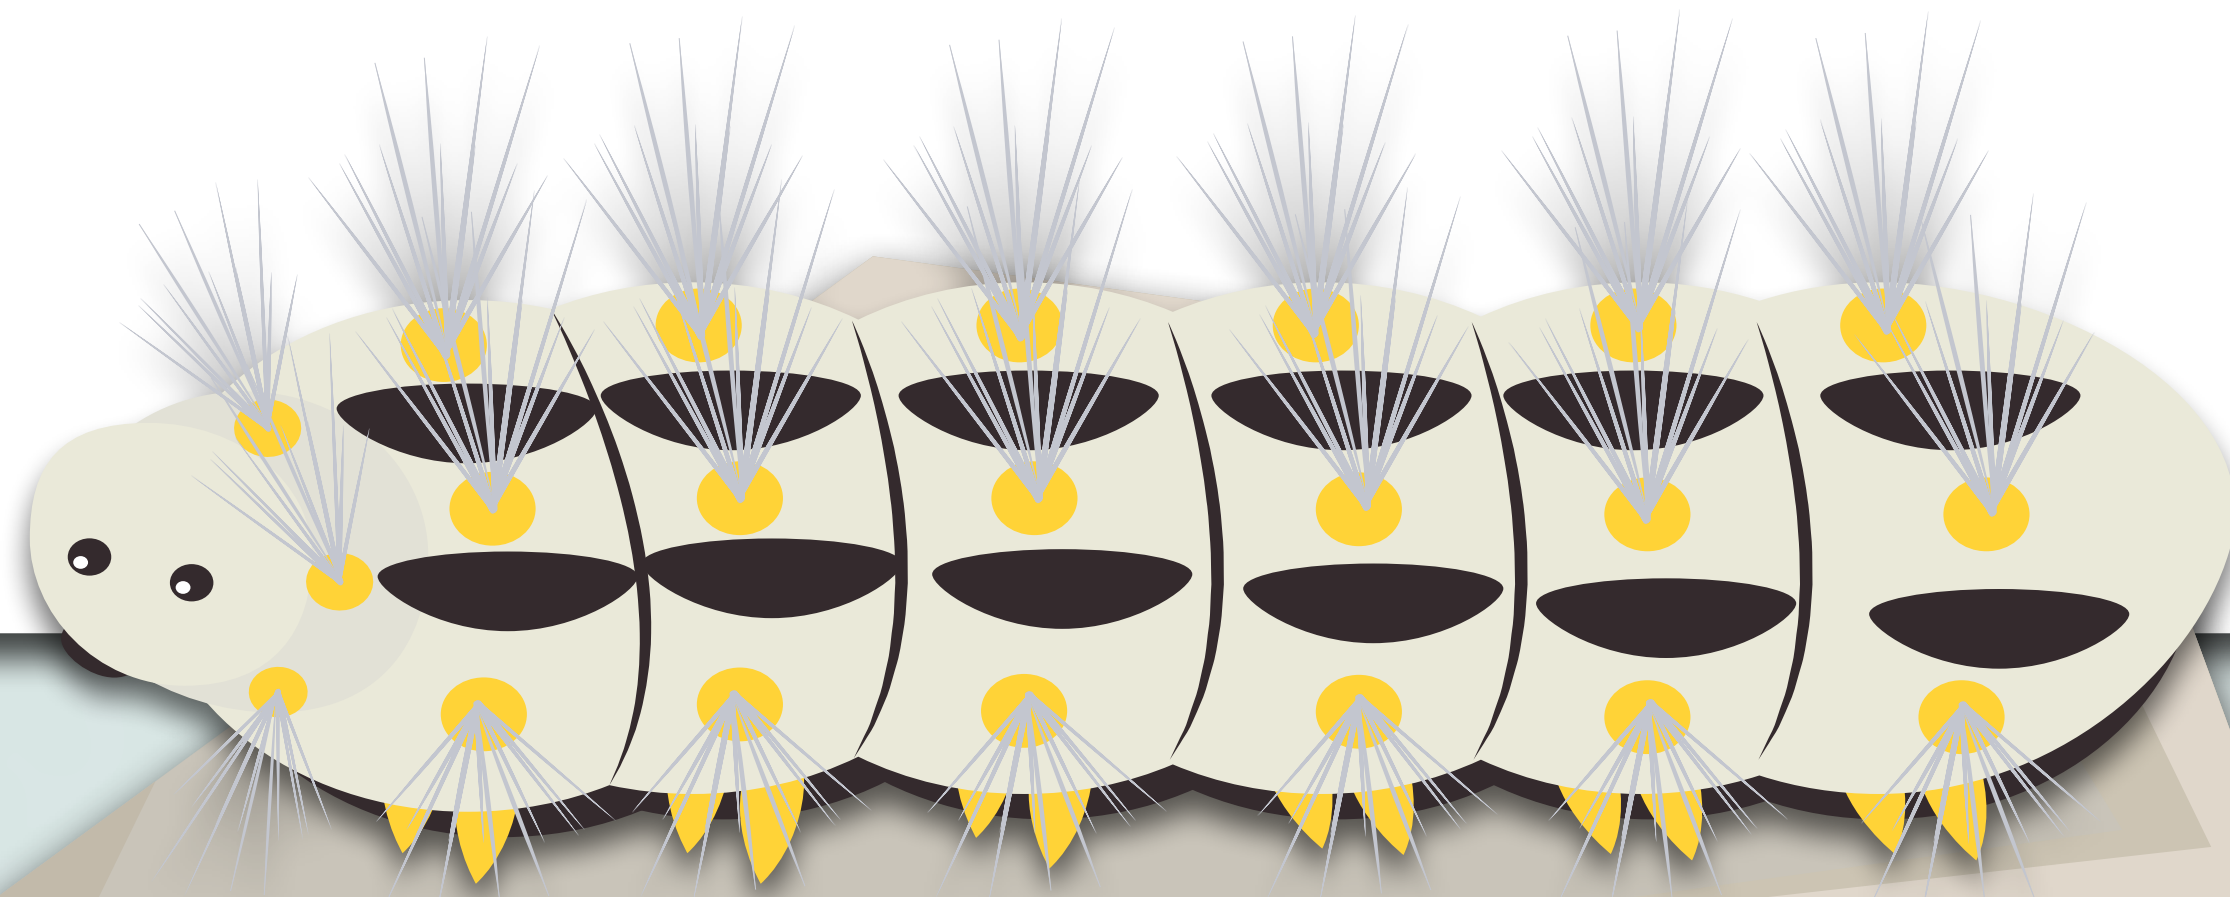

Is it a cactus? No, it is a caterpillar! Caterpillars can look very cool. This caterpillar has spines shooting from its yellow spots.
